DYSENTERY SCOURGE

Another Case Admitted

Investigations Proceeding

PROGRESS REPORT PROMISED

What The Public Thinks

Another dysentery case, that of a Chinese medical student from the University, was admitted yesterday to the Government Civil Hospital, stated Dr. G. W. Pope, Medical Officer of Health.

Thus the scourge continues. However, no further deaths have been reported, though several of the patients in the various hospitals are reported to be in a critical state still.

It was officially stated yesterday that investigations of a particularly thorough nature are being effected by the health officers of the Medical Department.

It was further ascertained that a preliminary report, dealing explicitly with the present outbreak, will be issued to the Press before the end of this week.

Meanwhile, the advice previously given by Dr. A. R. Wellington, Director of Medical and Sanitary Services, that every precaution should be taken in the selection of foodstuffs, and, as far as possible, everything should be boiled.

Commission Of Inquiry Suggested

[The Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press."]

Dear Sir,—Permit me to congratulate you on the frank manner in which you have brought to the notice of the public the facts of this dysentery trouble, and also for the fearless manner in which you have enlightened a great number of people concerning the attitude of certain officials. If anything, I would say that your language was far too restrained under the very trying circumstances.

I suggest that an agitation—a very rare thing in this Colony—be started with the object of having a Commission, representative of the medical profession and the Chinese and European population, appointed to investigate this whole matter because I feel that otherwise the charges, which might be sheeted home to some persons or organisations, will merely be relegated to dusty files in cob-webbed pigeon-holes.

The fact is, the faith of the public has been shaken in connection with the precautions which it was thought were being taken regarding the purity of food supplies, and until that faith can be re-established there will always remain a most unsatisfactory uneasiness on the part of residents.

Anyway, whatever is done, someone with the necessary power should see to it that Government officials have their positions and functions clearly defined for them on the basis that they are Servants and not Star Chamber Dictators. These people are paid to do a job, and if they adopt the "you-be-hanged" attitude that at least one of them has adopted, then the sooner a purging takes place the better for the efficiency of the entire Administration.

Now that the "Daily Press" has brought the facts of this matter to light it is possible that something will be done. That is alright in its way, but what is the use of locking the door after the horse has bolted?

Yours faithfully,
"GET ON OR GET OUT."

"What Security For The Future?"

[The Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press."]

Dear Sir,—In connection with the article in to-day's "Daily Press"—as one of the parents concerned—it seems strange to me that after Dr. Gray had been reported in the Press as having completed his investigations, and 5 days after my daughter had been admitted to the War Memorial Nursing Home, a Sanitary Inspector called at my house and in the absence of my wife and myself interrogated the nurse.

A suitable questionnaire could have been sent to me personally within 24 hours.

What concerns most of us, apart from the present anxiety, is what security have we for the future? Taking into consideration the filthy sea water, filthy streets and the general apathy and smugness of our local "bigwigs," we have no guarantee that this will not happen again in the near future.

Yours faithfully,
"ANXIOUS."

"Who Is To Blame?"

[The Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press."]

Dear Sir,—One of your headings read, "Who Is To Blame?" That is what we all want to know. If nobody is to blame then we know where we are, but that is hard to believe at this enlightened period of the scientific day.

If the officials cannot solve this problem, then, before more outbreaks occur, let those who are sufficiently expert step in and take the necessary action.

But perhaps the "regulations" will not permit of such action.

Yours, etc.,
"INQUIRER."

"If Lady Astor Were Here!"

[The Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press."]

Dear Sir,—I presume you are a man, but if you had been a woman and a mother you could not have better expressed the feelings which many of us have at the present time. The anxiety and worry which this outbreak—you call it a "scourge," and well said!—of dysentery has caused is deep and far-reaching. But with that anxiety there is mixed an amazement at the attitude of responsible officials which I, even though a woman, cannot find words to express. If the officials have not taken the proper precautions to safeguard the purity of the food and milk why is the thing not brought to light? If they have done all that they should have done, then why not let the public know the true facts of the case and who is to blame?

It seems to me that Officialdom here thinks we are all too lazy or stupid to offer any criticism. Well, if a woman with the pep and personality of a Lady Astor were amongst us, those smug officials would not hear the last of this until the whole deplorable trouble had been thoroughly cleaned-up.

Yours, etc.,
"DISGUSTED."

What Precautionary Measures?

[The Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press."]

Sir,—I am not so much interested to know what is being done now to find out the cause of the dysentery scourge as to know what was done beforehand in the way of precautionary measures.

I think the Administration of the Colony owes a responsibility to the public in this connection.

Yours faithfully,
"ACTION."

"Deserve All We Get"

[The Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press."]

Dear Sir,—When I read your comments on this dysentery epidemic in Tuesday's "Daily Press" (and I presume you either wrote them or sanctioned them) I thought you were too severe. When I read your further disclosures in to-day's (Wednesday's) paper I thought you were not severe enough. We have surely reached the limit. This dysentery "scourge" has caused death and terrible pain to many people (the anxiety it has caused is incalculable) and yet no official statement has been issued.

If we take this sort of thing without registering a protest in the highest quarters, then we deserve all we get.

Your attitude is deserving of every commendation.

Yours sincerely,
"WAKE-UP."

Names Needed

[The Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press."]

Dear Sir,—If "the powers that be" think that milk was the original source of infection of this dysentery epidemic, the logical step should be the publication of the name of the supplier of each case reported, so that the public may protect itself.

Yours faithfully,
"MILKFED."

H.M.S. BERWICK AS HOSTS

Grand Carnival Dance

The large crowd of about 350 that attended the grand carnival dance held at the China Fleet Club under the auspices of the ship's company of H.M.S. Berwick, by kind permission of Capt. E. R. Bent, D.S.C., testified to the wholehearted efforts of the Master of ceremonies, C. P. O. Blatchford.

The theatre where the dance was held was tastefully decorated with multi-coloured streamers and banner of papier mache in the form of a maypole.

Green and white bunting on the outside represented the Berwick's colours while the ceiling held a large assortment of balloons which were let off at 10.30 p.m.

FIREMEN'S DISPLAY

Successful Turnout At Wanchai Compound

SPECTATORS THRILLED

GOVERNOR AND WIFE ATTEND

One of the best displays yet to be seen in the Colony was provided by the Hong Kong Fire Brigade yesterday afternoon when they presented their annual drill display in the compound of the new No. 2 Police Station, Wanchai, in the presence of a large gathering of spectators which included His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, and Lady Caldecott, accompanied by Capt. Cragg, A.D.C., the Hon. Mr. T. H. King, Chief Officer of the Brigade and Inspector General of Police, Mrs. King, Miss King, Mrs. E. Cock and Mr. H. E. Stevens, Chief Officer of the Singapore Fire Department.

The Colony's firefighters demonstrated their ability, alertness and prompt application of the various types of apparatus used in combatting conflagrations. Each item on the programme received well merited applause and spectators were more than thrilled when a fireman was sent up the 100 foot all-steel motor turntable fire escape.

A novel feature introduced in the display was a broadcast running commentary given by Mr. J. C. Fitz Henry, Deputy Superintendent of the Fire Brigade, who described every event in most comprehensive manner thereby assisting the spectators a great deal. He also explained the uses of various fire fighting apparatus and at the conclusion of the display gave an interesting discourse on what people should learn to do to prevent fire.

Mr. H. T. Brooks, Superintendent of the Fire Brigade.

The display included the finals of several competitions and rivalry between the competing stations was very keen.

The roofs of houses overlooking the compound were packed with Chinese who evinced much interest in the proceedings.

The parade was under the Hon. Mr. King while Mr. H. T. Brooks, Superintendent of the Brigade, directed the demonstrations.

After His Excellency had inspected the Brigade there was a demonstration of the use of types of small engines in rural districts such as Taipo and Shaukiwan.

MOTOR ESCAPE COMPETITION

This was followed by the final of the motor escape competition drill. The teams were Central Fire Station "A" and the Kowloon Fire Station. Accurate judgment and the saving powers of the men in carrying victims from a supposed burning building, said the commentator, were called for in this competition. Many smart teams had been eliminated in the preliminary rounds. The event

NEW TITLES FOR "DOMESTICS"

"Kitchen Managers"

Mistresses met in conference in London recently and debated the domestic servant problem. The discussion, if rather inconclusive, was illuminating, state the "Morning Post."

It hinged on the decision of the Electrical Association for Women to inaugurate a campaign for educating those engaged in household duties in the expert use of modern electrical appliances. It is proposed to award certificates of proficiency, and the movement is regarded as a method of increasing both the status and attractions of domestic service.

Representatives of many women's organisations attended the meeting, and a number of domestic workers who were present were asked for their views. Only one accepted the invitation, however, and she confined her opinions to a few brief sentences.

Lady Mount Temple, who opened the discussion said that she was puzzled why so many girls looked down on domestic service and regarded it as "undignified." Any work, she contended, had its own dignity. Unless the young domestic worker would face up to this fact and realise that the job she was doing was worth doing well, mistresses and maids would make little progress towards mutual understanding.

MEN'S ATTITUDE

Here are some of the other views expressed:

Mrs. Hillear: Men should alter their attitude towards the domestic worker. They will take out typists but look down on domestic workers, who would probably make better wives.

Mrs. Wheelwright: Domestic workers should be asked to take jobs in country homes only on condition that they are released after a specified period and found other employment.

Miss Fitzgerald: The words "domestic" and "servant" should be eliminated from the English language. The cook should be known as "kitchen manager" and the housekeeper as "household manager," and so on. Domestic workers should be able to obtain certificates for proficiency in the various branches, and should be paid accordingly.

Mrs. Cooley: Let the domestic worker choose the uniform she has to wear.

Miss Lorentzsen, a domestic worker: The whole problem lies in the stigma of "domestic servant." Maids should be paid according to efficiency and experience.

Mrs. Howland: The whole trouble is "social ambition." The factories are short of skilled girl workers because girls would rather be typists than work in the factory. There is no reason why maids should not work in shifts to avoid the long hours.

Lady Stamp suggested that the churches and clubs should extend the same spirit of welcome to domestic workers as they did to typists.

DR. HELEN KELLER'S TEACHER DEAD

Notable Educational Feat Recalled

The death in America of Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, the teacher and devoted companion of Dr. Helen Keller, the deafblind American lecturer and authoress, is announced by the National Institute for the Blind, states the "Morning Post."

Mrs. Macy, then Miss Sullivan, entered the Keller household shortly before Helen Keller's seventh birthday. The child was blind and deaf and dumb, and was unaware that such things as names existed.

It was this particular hiatus in the child's understanding that Miss Sullivan determined to make good first of all. She handed her pupil a doll, and spelt the letters d-o-l-l in the child's palm. Other objects were treated in the same way till at last the pupil suddenly realised that everything had a name. It has been said that the awakening of the child's dormant intelligence was the greatest feat of individual teaching ever achieved.

Pupil and teacher became inseparable companions, and they visited England together many times. When Mrs. Macy began to lose her sight the former roles were reversed, Dr. Keller becoming the teacher and her former instructor the pupil. The deaf and blind authoress nursed her friend to the end.

Surgical Treatment Of Angina

INJECTION OF GROUND BEEF BONE

New Blood Supply For The Heart

A surgical operation taking new blood supplies to weakened hearts so that victims of angina pectoris and other heart ailments have been able to perform manual labour, was described at the 26th Congress of the American College of Surgeons in Philadelphia, states "The Morning Post."

Dr. Claude S. Beck, Professor of Surgery at the Western Reserve University, Cleveland, described his work in creating new blood supplies for the heart muscles.

Man's heart ailments, Professor Beck told his fellow-surgeons, largely arise from the fact that the two coronary arteries carrying blood to the heart muscles become filled with calcium deposits which cut down the blood supply reaching the heart tissues. Other animals have many more supply arteries for the heart.

Professor Beck first overcame the deficiency, he claimed, by linking the heart and chest muscles, whereby blood vessels built themselves through adhesion of the tissues, carrying a full blood supply from the chest muscle into the heart muscle.

To simplify this process Professor Beck injects ground beef bone into the pericardium, the bag in which the heart lies, through a small incision in the chest.

The injected bone, the Professor explains, irritates both the surface of the myocardium (the muscle fibre of the heart wall), and the surface of the pericardium. An inflammatory process of the tissues is induced which causes the pericardium and the heart itself to stick together.

NEW HEART TISSUE

New tissue is formed at the points of adhesion just as when a wound heals, and the new tissue is supplied with blood vessels which build themselves as new branches from the plentiful supply of blood vessels in the pericardium. These connect with new branching blood vessels sent out from those already existing in the heart muscles.

These two new systems, joined through new capillaries, permit blood from the pericardium to cross into the heart, giving an adequate supply when the coronary arteries are clogged.

Professor Beck reported that in all cases the operation succeeded in providing a new blood supply for the heart. Eight persons recovered fully.

In one case a man who through hardening of the coronary arteries was unable to walk without torture, was after six weeks able to undertake heavy manual labour.

New Treatment Of Tuberculosis

PATIENTS WHO BENEFIT

A statistical study of the method of treating tuberculosis of the lung by "artificial pneumothorax" (the introduction of air into the test cavity to put the diseased lung temporarily out of action) by Dr. F. J. Bentley, of the London County Council is issued as a special report by the Medical Research Council. (Special Report Series No. 215. Price 1s. 6d.).

The results in nearly 700 patients treated by this method under the tuberculosis scheme of the London County Council are compared with those for over 3,000 patients treated by more conservative measures.

In each group a follow-up over a period of some years has been possible, and the results show clearly that when the lung is effectively "splinted" by the introduction of air into the chest, the chances of cure are definitely increased, and the general condition of the patient cured in this way is better than for other methods.

At the end of three years it is estimated that there were nearly 130 more patients alive in the group treated by "pneumothorax" than was to be expected according to the mortality rate in the group treated by other methods. In other words, there is a survival rate which is 20 per cent. higher in the group of patients treated by "pneumothorax."

LIMITED GROUP

Unfortunately, however, only about 10 per cent. of all patients suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs in residential centres were suitable for this special means of treatment, so that the application of the treatment can only affect the general level of the results by about 2 per cent.

It is hoped that in the coming years its application may be widened, especially for young male sufferers, even if the number of patients so treated is doubled, an improvement of 4 per cent. of the results is all that can be expected.

The general conclusion reached is that "artificial pneumothorax" remains a valuable method of effecting a permanent cure for a limited number of patients.

CAKES, PUDDINGS AND SAVOURIES

PASTRY-MAKING

Keep everything cold—that's the golden rule for successful pastry-making. And this means the margarine as well as your hands. Flour should be perfectly dry and sieved.

Use as little liquid as possible; more fat and less liquid makes better pastry.

A good short crust for tarts and pies is made with 1lb. self-raising flour, ½lb. margarine, a pinch of salt, milk and water mixed.

When making flaky pastry allow 14oz. margarine, a pinch of salt and a teaspoonful of lemon juice to 1lb. flour.

For rough puff pastry, the ingredients are 1lb. self-raising flour, ½lb. margarine, a teaspoonful of lemon juice, cold water for mixing.

NUT SCONES

Cream together two and a half ounces of butter and three ounces of castor sugar; add a beaten egg, and continue beating until light and creamy. Sift together six ounces of plain flour, a good pinch of salt, and half a teaspoonful of cinnamon, and gradually work in with the butter and sugar. Dissolve half a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda in a little boiling water, and beat quickly in with the rest of the ingredients. Then stir in three ounces of chopped walnuts, one ounce of blanched chopped almonds, and four ounces of roughly chopped sultanas. The mixture should be stiff, but if too stiff add just a little milk. Put in small rough heaps on a greased oven sheet and bake for about fifteen minutes in a fairly hot oven.

PICKLED EGGS

Put one dozen hen eggs into a pan, cover with cold water, bring slowly to the boil and boil for twenty minutes. Lift the eggs out of the boiling water and plunge them into cold water. Then carefully remove the shells and lay the eggs aside to cool. Mix the following spices thoroughly together: quarter of an ounce each of cloves, mace, and whole pepper, one ounce of salt, half a grated nutmeg, and two bay leaves. Put the eggs into a stone or glass jar and sprinkle the seasoning over each layer of eggs. Then pour over enough boiling vinegar to cover, and when cold close the jar in the usual way. These eggs are good served with cold meat.

KNICKERBOCKER PUDDING

Take the juice of
3 medium-size oranges and
1 lemon, and add
½ cup sugar. Stir well and pour into tray. Whip
1 pint heavy cream and add
½ cup powdered sugar
½ cup nut meats; pour over fruit juice. Pack and freeze or put into electric ice box.

SPONGE CAKE

Cook
1½ cups sugar and
1 cup water until it hairs well. Pour over
6 egg whites, beaten stiff. Beat until cool. Add
6 egg yolks, beaten stiff
½ teaspoon vanilla. Fold in
1 cup pastry flour sifted with
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon salt. Bake for one hour in an oven 320 deg F.

STEAK AND KIDNEY PIE

Have a pound and a half of stewing steak sliced thinly, and cut into pieces about four inches by two inches. Cut two sheep's kidneys into small pieces, and roll the kidney up inside the pieces of meat. Dip in well-seasoned flour and put into a pie-dish. Sprinkle over it a dessertspoonful of onion juice or finely grated onion and a little chopped parsley. Cover the meat with stock or water slightly thickened and coloured a good brown, and on top put a layer of sliced potatoes. Season these with salt and pepper. Have ready a lid of short pastry and put on top, using a funnel to let out the steam. Bake in a hot oven for twenty minutes; then reduce the heat and cook slowly for another two hours. The pastry can be covered with a piece of damp grease-proof paper after it is brown enough to prevent it from geting too hard and overcooked.

COFFEE SANDWICH
(Sponge Mixture)

You will need three eggs ¾ cup sugar, 1 cup self-raising flour (or plain flour with 1 teaspoon baking powder), pinch of salt, 1 teaspoon butter, 1 tablespoon coffee essence, 2 tablespoons hot milk or hot water, mock or whipped cream or coffee, butter, cream, icing sugar.

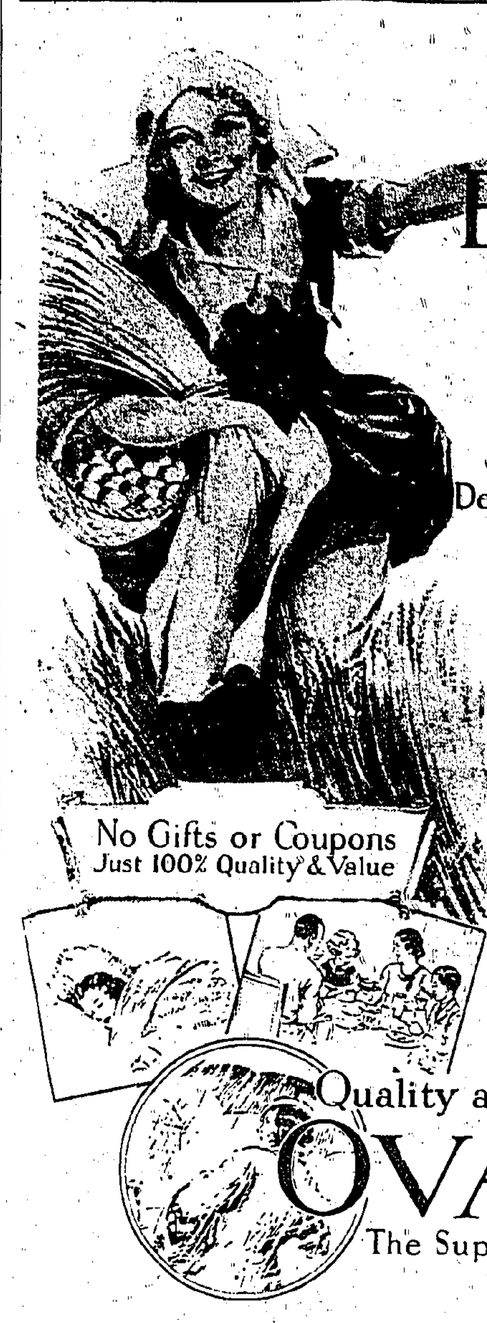
Add the salt to the eggs; whisk lightly, and gradually stir in the sugar. Whisk lightly till the sugar is dissolved, and the mixture thick and frothy. Dissolve the butter in the hot water or milk, and mix with the coffee essence. Remove the whisk, and stir in the sifted flour, baking-powder, and salt. Add the coffee mixture, and stir lightly and thoroughly. Pour into two well-buttered, lightly floured sandwich pans (about 7 inches in diameter). Bake in a moderately hot oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Turn the cooked layers on to a cake cooler, and, when cold, join with the prepared filling. Sprinkle with sifted icing sugar.

SPONGE CAKES

Prepare a dozen small cake tins (or use paper cases) by greasing the tins thoroughly and dusting with a mixture of flour and castor sugar. Beat two large eggs, add four ounces of castor sugar, and whisk over a pan of hot water until thick and creamy. Remove from the heat and whisk for a further ten minutes. Stir in very lightly, without beating, three ounces of self-raising flour, sifted and dried thoroughly. Add a pinch of salt and the grated rind of half a lemon or a little lemon or vanilla essence. Finally, add a tablespoonful of boiling water. Divide the mixture between the tins and bake in a hot oven for ten minutes. Make a slit in the tops, scoop out a little of the mixture, and insert a spoonful of red currant jelly, or raspberry jam, and some sweetened whipped cream.

CHUTNEY

Apple and tomato chutney may be made now, and is delicious for use in the winter with cold roast meat, game, ham, or tongue. Peel, core, and cut up four pounds of apples and four pounds of tomatoes and boil in three cupfuls of vinegar. Stir in a pound and a half of brown sugar, and then allow the mixture to cool. Finally beat all together with half a pound of salt, half a pound of parboiled and sliced onions, an ounce of ground ginger, an ounce of curry powder, and a teaspoonful each of cayenne pepper and mustard. Tie the chutney down in pots; it will keep indefinitely.



Everybody's Beverage for Health this Winter

Definite reasons why 'OVALTINE' should be your safeguard against Winter Ailments

Year by year the supreme health-giving value of delicious 'Ovaltine' is more widely recognised. In the majority of homes throughout the world it is the favourite beverage for maintaining perfect physical fitness at all times—at all seasons. To millions of persons this winter, 'Ovaltine' will bring the assurance of robust health.

There is definitely nothing to equal 'Ovaltine' as the best safeguard against wintry conditions. 'Ovaltine' presents, in the most easily digestible form, every nutritive element required for building up the entire physical and nervous system. Moreover, 'Ovaltine' is acknowledged to be the world's best "night-cap" for soothing the nerves and inducing sound, refreshing sleep.

Thus 'Ovaltine' ensures proper nourishment and proper sleep—the two most important factors in building up a high standard of resistance to coughs, colds, and other winter ailments.

Remember that 'Ovaltine' is made by a firm with a world-wide reputation as specialists in the science of nutrition. The scientific methods of manufacture—originated and perfected by the proprietors—cannot be used by others. Although imitations are made to look like 'Ovaltine,' there are important differences.

'Ovaltine' does not contain Household Sugar. Furthermore, it does not contain Starch. Nor does it contain Chocolate, or a large percentage of Cocoa. 'Ovaltine' stands in a class by itself for quality and value.

BISHOP OF BIRMINGHAM'S PROPOSAL

Coronation Ceremony "Should Be Independent Of Communion"

Dr. Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, preaching at the Chapel Royal, St. James's, London, recently suggested that the form of the Coronation service should be changed, and that the Coronation ceremony should be made independent of the Communion Office.

Referring to changes since the last Coronation, he said that broadcasting had come in, women had received the franchise, and knowledge of the earth's history and place in the universe and of man's pre-history had become widespread.

Changes of such magnitude must be allowed to influence even occasions with the most venerable history.

"That the essentials of the Coronation rite should remain unchanged all will probably agree," he said, "but they are placed within the setting of the English Communion Office, and I submit that that setting could with advantage be reshaped.

Our forefathers in the eighteenth century thought it natural to demand occasional formal reception of the consecrated elements as a symbol or religious conformity. To us such a use of the Sacrament is not merely undesirable; it is indefensible.

"Just as a man will go quietly to Communion at some early time of the day before taking up new responsibilities, just as in Shakespeare's immortal history Henry the Fifth prays alone early in the morning upon St. Crispin's Day so we should like to think that the Sovereign could quietly and unobserved make such personal and religious preparation for his Coronation as he deemed right."

ANGLICAN SERVICE NOT REPRESENTATIVE

The religious situation in England—he said nothing of Scotland—was such that no religious service was now properly representative of the nation unless the Free Churches took part in it. Westminster Abbey was subject solely to the Crown's authority and not to that of Bishop or Archbishop.

There was no reason why at a special service uncombined with the Anglican Communion Office non-Anglican Ministers should not officiate. If at the Coronation leaders of the Free Churches and, still more, representatives of the Church of Scotland, were permitted to co-operate with Anglican ecclesiastics, the religious life of the nation would be more fully represented.

Dr Barnes added, "I confess that I personally would like to see among Nonconformist leaders thus taking part in the Coronation the General of the Salvation Army."

An official of the Salvation Army said recently—"If, as the Bishop suggests, an invitation to take part in the Coronation ceremony were extended to General Booth. I am sure she would be very happy to accept it. We would regard it as a great compliment to the Salvation Army."

An ecclesiastical authority who is closely concerned with the Coronation arrangements said, "I am very much interested in what the Bishop of Birmingham has thought fit to say, but of course it is too late to make any such alteration as he suggests.

"Some time ago there have been something in it, but the Coronation arrangements are too far advanced now. The Coronation is the anointing and setting apart of the King for his office, and that is why—like the other great ceremonies—it is placed inside the Communion service. That fact in itself constitutes the chief difficulty about inviting Nonconformist ministers to take part in the Coronation."

The Rev. C. Ensor Walters, president of the Methodist Church, said—"It is not for the Free Churches to make any claim to take part in the Coronation service. If the Anglican Church desires that we should, it is for the authorities of the Church to approach us."

Dr Archibald Fleming, of St Columba's (Church of Scotland), Pont Street, said he understood that a special service for use in the Church of Scotland was now in preparation.

THE CORONATION OATH

All MPs have been circularised by the Church Association of London regarding the form of notification of the Coronation Oath in parish churches.

"At his Coronation on May 12, 1937," begins the letter, "our gracious King will take an Oath to 'maintain the laws of God, the true profession of the Gospel, and the Protestant reformed religion established by law.'

"When King Edward VII. was crowned, the form which was issued 'by royal command' for use in parish churches contained a notification which contained the following:

"'His Majesty takes the Oath to govern the people according to the statutes in Parliament agreed on and the respective laws and customs of the same, to cause law and justice in mercy to be executed in all his judgments, [to the utmost of] his power to maintain the laws of God, the true profession of the Gospel and the Protestant reformed religion established by law, and to preserve inviolably the settlement of the Church of England and the doctrine worship, discipline, and government thereof as by law established in England.]'

"This form had been used in parish churches since the Coronation of William the Third. At the Coronation of King George the two Archbishops, Dr Davidson and Dr Lang, on their own initiative issued a form of service 'commended for general use' in which the whole of the portion within parenthesis was omitted, and for it were substituted the words 'And to protect the Church.'

"The grave nature of these unauthorised alterations will be at once apparent. Every phrase in the omitted portion is pregnant with meaning. In these days when there are organised attacks against Christ and the Gospel, and even the name and authority of God, it is more than ever necessary that our King should uncompromisingly be the side of the Truth of God . . ."

The Church Association conclude that only the form which contains the full Coronation Oath should be issued by royal command and used in the parish churches at the forthcoming Coronation.

DEATH OF MADAME ALBANESI

Authoress Of Hundreds Of Novels

Madame Albanesi, the novelist, died recently at her home in Hallam-street, W., at the age of 77, states the "Evening News."

She had a double claim to fame; on her own account, as the author of a long and popular series of novels for more than 30 years, and as the mother of Meggie Albanesi, who, before her untimely death in 1923, promised to become another Ellen Terry.

Meggie Albanesi was judged by critics to be by far the most talented young actress seen for a great number of years.

LONELINESS

Madame Albanesi was born Effie Henderson; many of her novels—she wrote hundreds—were published under the pseudonym of Effie Adelaide Rowland. She married the Chevalier Carlo Albanesi, a pianist and composer of Italian parentage, who was for many years a professor and examiner at the Royal Academy Music, and who numbered among his pupils the two daughters of the Duke of Conaught, the late Crown Princess of Sweden and Lady Patricia Ramsay.

His compositions were polished and scholary, and before coming to England he was well known as a pianist of distinction in Naples. He died in 1926.

Madame Albanesi's last years were much saddened by her loneliness.

THE LITTLE FLAT

Her elder daughetr Miss Eva Albanesi, who like her sister was also an actress, married an Army officer, Major A. H. Williams, and settled in India; and Madame Albanesi deeply felt the absence of all those dear to her.

She furnished a small flat with her daughter Meggie's belongings and there sought to bring back the old associations.

CHANGE IN CORONATION OATH

Protest Made

A protest against the alteration in the Coronation Oath was made at the autumn conference of the Church Association at Bristol recently, states the "Daily Mail."

The traditional Oath which the King will take at Westminster Abbey next May has been slightly changed, and the new wording will not be known until the Coronation programme is published in full.

Mr. Hedgerly, organising secretary of the Church Association, which seeks to "uphold the doctrine, principles and order of the Church of England," moved this resolution:—

"That this meeting has noted with grave concern the announcement that a change in the Coronation Oath is proposed, but that the terms of the change are not to be made known to the public until the service is published.

"Inasmuch as the Coronation Oath was framed by Statute, this meeting protests against any such procedure without debate in Parliament, and calls upon members to take action."

The new wording was drawn up after consultation between high ecclesiastical and constitutional authorities to comply with the provisions of the Statute of Westminster, which changed the status of the Dominions.

FASTER UNDERGROUND TRAINS

London, Nov. 17.

A new streamlined train, the first of four, to be run experimentally on the London underground service, was run to-day on the Piccadilly line. Its acceleration is said to be the highest ever achieved on the underground railway, namely 2 m.p.h. per second, instead of 1.25 m.p.h. per second formerly.

The improvement will permit an introduction of additional trains to meet the traffic demands at peak periods.

The train is driven by twelve instead of four motors, the horse power being increased from 960 to 1,656. A new experimental system of forced ventilation is introduced.—British Wireless.

KING GEORGE

Anxious To Help Labour Government

ALWAYS "IMPARTIAL"

When King George dissolved Parliament in 1924, he showed that the Labour Party could expect from the King "absolutely fair and impartial treatment in all essentials, states "The Daily Mail."

His attitude to the Labour Ministers was "neither grudging nor condescending," and they did not feel that they were objects of contemptuous benevolence, but that he appreciated their position and was ready to help.

This disclosure of King George's sympathetic treatment of the Labour Party in its first efforts at Government is made by Professor A. Berridale Keith, in "The King and the Imperial Court," published recently, (price 21s.).

Queen Victoria could not conceivably have accepted a Labour Government, states the Professor. King George's decision to welcome cordially Mr. Ramsay MacDonald showed "how completely he caught the spirit of the age."

When the National Government was formed during the crisis of 1931 King George's action was "not based on personal favour, nor was it revolutionary.

POWERS OF THE KING

"King George's action gave at once a precision and reinforcement to the principles of constitutional government, and the King showed he had his grandmother's faculty gauging popular opinion, though he was never acquainted with the people in the sense that Edward VIII may fairly be said to be."

The book also deals with the powers and privileges of the King.

Queen Mary, according to some authorities, could not remarry without the King's consent, says the author, and the education and care of the Royal Family and the appointing of governors and instructors for royal children rests with the King.

If the Crown descended to Princess Elizabeth before she was eighteen, there is provision under Statute for a regency, the book reveals.

Recounting the laws affecting the Coronation, Professor Berridale Keith states that the boys of Westminster School, rehearsed by tradition to shout "God Save King Edward" at the service, represent a reminder of the elective character of kingship.

SHARE OF ESTATE

Soldier Given Till 1957 To Claim It

VANISHED IN 1916

A man who joined the Royal Army Service Corps in 1916, and has not been heard of since, is bequeathed half the residue of the property left by his mother, Mrs. Jane Haslam, of Onslow-square, South Kensington, whose will is published this month, states the "Evening News."

Mrs. Haslam left £14,284, and after several bequests to friends the remainder of her estate is to be divided between her two sons, Mr. Harold Haslam, and Mr. Arthur Claude Hamilton Haslam—the missing man.

TRUST FUND

The clause in the will reads:

"One-half upon trust for my son Arthur, who enlisted in the Army previous to the Armistice and who has not been heard of since.

"His share of the residuary estate is to be held upon trust for him for 21 years after my death, unless definite information is received as to the fact of his death and then for his issue."

A friend of the family said:

"There whereabouts of Mr. Arthur Haslam are a complete mystery to everybody. He was nearing 50 in 1916, when we last heard of him.

IN HOSPITAL AT FULHAM

"At that time he was ill in the Military Hospital at Fulham. We understood that he had joined the R.A.S.C. just before, using his own name.

"Inquiries have been made at the War Office. Nothing has been discovered yet. Their investigations have not been completed."

"WHILE PARENTS SLEEP"

Jean Gillie, the nineteen-year-old star of "While Parents Sleep," which comes to Majestic Theatre to-day is a British discovery of great importance.

Her very first part was in Jack Buchanan's picture "Brewster's Millions" as a young and attractive typist who plays a short but significant comedy scene with Jack. That scene started something for Jean. It lasted about a minute on the screen, but as the result of it Jean was put under contract to British and Dominions by Herbert Wilcox for a term of three years, during which she will certainly be promoted to world stardom.

As the heroine of "While Parents Sleep," an adaptation of the famous play, she is at present playing her first important and most successful featured part. The character is a shopgirl who is projected into a high-class family as a future daughter-in-law, and at first looked down upon by them, until she wins them over by her charm and forthrightness. This is a straight comedy part, but Jean's handling of it has so impressed everyone that her future success is assured. In the scene where she holds her own against the combined forces of her hostess and friends, Jean Gillie gives a splendid portrayal of hurt pride and just indignation.

A man has been charged with assaulting his wife and throwing her downstairs two days after their wedding. It is said he asked the magistrate not to send him to prison on the ground that it would break up their honeymoon.

"SWORN ENEMY"

Teeming with flesh-and-blood characters from all walks of life, swept up from the city streets into a cauldron of dramatic circumstance—this is "Sworn Enemy," a story of metropolitan crime operations, opening to-day at the King's Theatre.

"Sworn Enemy" is based on a story by Richard Wormser, and was directed by Edwin L. Marin, director of such recent hits as "Speed," "Moonlight Murder" and "The Garden Murder Case."

The plot depicts the struggle of a poor boy (Robert Young) trying to go straight until his brother and employer are killed by the men with whom he was raised; then follows his demonical lust for revenge.

The pace is swift from the opening scene when, having landed his first job, he struggles with gang representatives who demand part of his salary for "protection," to the final climax in the luxurious penthouse of the gang overlord.

Florence Rice has the feminine lead.

"YELLOWSTONE"

When this earth was first spun off into space, like a ball tossed from the hands of some celestial giant, there was one corner of the world endowed with all the wonders and beauty of Nature. To-day that place is known as Yellowstone National Park, which was chosen as the setting for Universal's "Yellowstone," the film which closes at the Queen's theatre to-day.

In that locale, more than a score of years ago, occurred hold-ups which have become a part of the history of the Old West. The dramatic film takes the thread of the narrative and develops present day sequences of the thrilling tale. "Yellowstone" weaves a gripping mystery about an old band who seeks a treasure that has been buried for many years.

He becomes the victim of the most unusual crime ever to reach the screen, according to Hollywood scouts. The solution of the baffling reveals a surprisingly strange twist, attempted for the first time in movie mysteries, declare the reports.

The drama is unfolded against the eyefilling backgrounds and scenic marvels which make the national park famous. The action proceeds at rapid pace. Contrasting with the mystery, there is a romance between the main characters, portrayed by Henry Hunter and Judith Barrett.

TRAVELLING THROUGH DUTCH INDIES

Private Showing Of Travel Film At King's

A travelogue film entitled "Glimpses of Netherlands India" was screened to a private audience in the King's Theatre yesterday morning. It was a pictorial impression of a travel through this delightful country conducted by the Dutch lines.

Scenes of the life and custom of the Sumatra, Celebes and Bali areas were vividly reproduced on the screen. One of the most impressive of Balinese festivals at which the dead are burned on funeral pyres were shown.

The travel sequences were cleverly fitted together and the audience was taken on a screen travel through the main points of interest in the Dutch East Indies. Altogether the film was one of those entertaining travel pictures shown regularly in local theatres and the interest of the audience was held from beginning to end.

During one of the short scenes one could not help but notice on the label on a suitcase printed with the name "Burton Holmes." This identified the elderly bearded man who appeared so often in the scenes as that well known traveller. Burton Holmes, whose travel films kept audiences of the silent screen period on journeys through the most interesting spots of the world.

The Dutch Lines comprises of the K.P.M. Royal Dutch Mail, Rotterdam Lloyd and the Holland-East Asia Lines.

"M'LISS"

The romance, tragedy, humour, and exciting adventures that accompany a young girl's graduation to woman'y maturity in an early California gold mining town are woven into co-stirring drama for Anne Shirley and John Beal in the RKO Radio picture "M'Liss" showing at the Queen's Theatre, to-day.

The film is a free adaptation of the popular short story by Bret Harte which, with its companion pieces, made its author famous as the most forceful interpreter of the colourful life and people of California's gold era.

Eighteen years old Anne Shirley, who portrays the part of the untamed mountain girl, M'Liss, has previously created, for the same studio, leading roles in "Anne of Green Gables" and "Chatterbox." In each of these pictures she was guided by the same Director, George Nicholls Jr., who is in charge of the making of "M'Liss."

John Beal, last seen by filmgoers opposite Katharine Hepburn in "The Little Minister," has since been scoring on Broadway where he withdrew in mid-run from the lead in the hit, "Russet Mantle," to accept this co-starring role opposite Miss Shirley.

These two young players are supported by a cast headed by Guy Kibbee (as M'Liss good natured, worthless, and constantly inebriated father, Washoe) Moroni Olsen, Douglass Dumbrille, Frank M. Thomas, Barbara Pepper, Arthur Hoyt, James Bush, and Margaret Armstrong.

"THE LAST OUTLAW"

The colorful bandit of the Old West is seen in striking contrast to the modern gangster in RkO Radio's thrilling film drama, "The Last Outlaw," which is showing to-day at the Alhambra theatre.

Harry Carey, the perennial cowboy hero of the screen, portrays a frontier desperado who is released from prison after a twenty-five year term for bank robbery.

Carey, co-starred with Hoot Gibson, is supported by such notable western stars as Henry B. Walthall, one of the real veterans of the screen, and Tom Tyler, a New Yorker who made good as a Hollywood cowboy. Margaret Callahan has the feminine lead.

Carey, unable to orient himself following his prison release in a modern world of machines and speed looks up his old friend, the sheriff, played by Walthall.

When a modern gang kidnaps Miss Callahan, Carey joins forces with the sheriff and her admirer, Gibson, in bringing the gang to justice.

The lovely Miss Callahan lends a refreshing touch to the picture as a modern girl whose affections lean toward Gibson, a young rancher.

Bribery, Robbery And Dangerous Drugs

INDIAN AMONG ACCUSED

Bribery, robbery and charges of possession of a dangerous drug (heroin pills) figure in the list of cases down for hearing at the November Criminal Sessions which commences at the Supreme Court on Monday at 10 a.m.

Harchand Singh, of the Indian contingent of the H.K. Police Force, is charged with giving a bribe to Sergt. C. Gough, a public servant.

There are five cases of possession of a dangerous drug, the accused being Lau Chun, Ng Wong, Li Chau, Yu Yin and Wong Hau Yu.

Li Wong and Li Ping Sang alias Li Chui Tam alias Li Yuen Tau are accused of robbery by two or more while a similar charge is preferred against Sze Hok Chuen and Wong Wing Sang.

Li Lin Fong will face a charge of robbery with violence.

Ng Ping is accused of uttering a forged bank note.

Mok Kiu, a woman, is charged with throwing corrosive fluid on a man.

Li Fuk alias Wong Hing, Hui Sung and Lui Hing are charged with breaches of the Deportation Ordinance.

The Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, and the Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice J. J. Hayden, will be the presiding judges.

The Crown prosecutions will probably be taken by Mr. E. H. Williams, Assistant Attorney General, and Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor.

MESS BOY IN TROUBLE

Navy Stores Robbed

Miao Fung Shui, 36, a mess boy employed on H.M.S. Delight, and a native of Wei Hai Wei, was charged with larceny yesterday at the Central Magistracy before Mr. W. Schofield.

A 55-year-old Chinese widow, Lai Sze Mui, was charged with receiving the stolen goods, viz, sugar, tea and butter, alleged to have been the property of the Navy.

Sgt. McDonald, in prosecuting, said that Sgt. Long, of the Royal Naval Dockyard, was on patrol duty on the sea wall when he saw someone passing out articles through the porthole of the H.M.S. Delight to a sampan woman.

In his attempt to board the vessel for an arrest, he was delayed by the hoisting of the colours which took about five minutes. When he went on board the sampan he arrested the woman, and it was not until some time after that he arrested the man.

A formal remand of a week was granted to produce witnesses of the larceny.

BRACELET THEFT SEQUEL

Two men, who were alleged to be implicated in a robbery in which Miss Rosemary Lam, of No. 165 Fuk Wah Street, was victimised of a gold bracelet valued at $50.00, were further remanded when they appeared before Mr. E. I. Wynne Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

The men were: Chan Hop Sing, 24, unemployed, and Lau Ting Yick. The robbery was alleged to have occurred on October 30, when Miss Lam was on her way to visit a friend at No. 281 Cheung Sha Wan Road.

Inspector W. R. Chester Wood, appeared for the prosecution. The case was remanded till Friday afternoon, November 20, when proceedings will commence.

LOTTERY TICKETS

Ho Ping, 43, unemployed of no fixed abode was charged before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for possession of lottery tickets, with a view to sale.

Inspector Shannon said that on November 17 at Jordan Road, the defendant was stopped and searched by a detective, who found 102 Hong Kong 'popui' tickets in accused's possession.

A fine of $50 or, in default, a month's imprisonment, was imposed.

HEROIN AND OPIUM

Raid Discloses Contraband

Wong Ho-fai, aged 38, stall foki, and Chiu Ha, aged 37, married woman, appeared before Mr. E. Himsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy on remand, charged with possession of 3,000 heroin pills and 21 taels of opium.

The second defendant pleaded guilty to both charges, and was fined a total of $1,560 or six months imprisonment.

Detective-Sergeant D. G. MacPherson, for the prosecution said that on November 9, a Chinese detective searched No. 4 Shak Lung Street, second floor. In a cubicle, which was locked, and later opened by the second defendant, was found a box containing two tins of heroin pills and opium.

Second defendant, represented by Mr. F. E. Nash was discharged because of insufficient evidence.

SURPRISE RAID

Thirteen Women Found Gambling

Leung Yau, 25, unemployed of No. 400 Portland Road, second floor, was brought before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen, at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday, for gambling and keeping a common gaming house.

Detective Sergeant Headridge said that the game being played was similar to the English, "Crown and anchor."

Thirteen women gambling in that cubicle, when the police raided the premises.

The defendant said that he was only looking after the premises for a friend, at present in Macao.

The defendant was fined $50, and the proceeds of the raid was order to be placed in the Poor Box.

SUICIDE VERDICT

Constable And Financial Worry

After hearing further evidence, the inquest on the death of Mak Yee Sing, P.C. C54, a Chinese constable who was found shot in his quarters at the Police Training School, Mong Kok on October 6, at 10 a.m., was concluded at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday, the jury stating that they found deceased's death was caused by his own hand and that financial difficulties seemed the most probable cause.

Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen (Coroner) expressed keen sympathy with the deceased's father.

Dr. G.H. Henry testified that death was due to a gun shot wound, fired at a close range.

Sergt. Scott, police armourer stated that he took the gun from the dead man's right hand and that the finger was still on the trigger.

Li Shun, 20 years of age, who stated that she lived with Mak Yee at No. 341 Shanghai street, deposed that she first met him last May. They had quite recently removed to a cheaper flat and Mak Yee had expressed a desire to find yet another abode.

"One day we intended to remove to Mong Kok" stated witness, "but he was unable to pay the rent for the present flat and the owner would not let him go. I know nothing about his money affairs. He never gave me money with the exception of 'Moon-Cake Day,' when he handed me $3."

"The rental for our present flat" said witness, "was $3.00 a month."

NO WORK SO STOWAWAY

Lam Hei-yam, 26, unemployed was brought before Mr. E. Himsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for being a stowaway from Singapore to Hong Kong on the s.s. Cremer.

The complainant, P. J. Hubregtse, Chief Officer of the vessel said that the defendant was discovered one day out at sea. He had attempted to mix with the other passengers on board. The passage fare was $15 Singapore money.

The defendant pleaded that he could not obtain work in Singapore.

He was fined $30 or in default, to a month in gaol.

DETECTIVE DENIES ALLEGATIONS

Hearing Of Serious Charges

Tsoi On, a detective attached to Shaukiwan police station, charged with demanding money by menaces from Ho Sam Tai, alias Lam Tak, and assault, appeared again before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Mr. Peter H. Sin defended, Mr. E. S. C. Brooks appeared for the complainant.

In his own defence, Tsoi On denied the allegations brought against him by complainant.

Mr. Sin: Did you see the complainant since the day of the alleged fight?—No.

Did you see Ah Lum at the opium divan on October 27?—No.

Did you try to squeeze $40 from him on January ?—No.

Did Lum have a grudge against you?—Yes, I questioned him some time ago because he was a suspicious character. He had no occupation and many strangers came to see him, and they looked like pirates.

How long have you known Chung Sing?—I don't know him at all.

DID NOT KNOW

Mr. Brooks: Did you know, before October 27, that the complainant had informed on a junk for the Customs?—No.

When did you first know Fung Tau-sze, the owner of the junk?—After I was summoned.

Why was that, his name was not mentioned in the summons?—I knew the charge was a false one arising from the fight on October 27.

Any of your friends in Shaukiwan smuggle goods?—No.

Why did you not report the fight on that evening?—It was not a serious one, and no one was injured.

Did you call a constable—No.

On, what grounds did you suspect Ah Lum?—He had strange visitors occasionally, he was an opium smoker and without an occupation.

I put it to you that you went to the opium divan on October 27, and struck the complainant.—I did not.

The hearing was adjourned to this afternoon.

CRECHE FOR INFANT CHILDREN

Generous Gift Of Mr. Li Po Chun

CLARENCE TERRACE

The generous gift of a house in Clarence Terrace by Mr. Li Po-chun for a period of two years, to be used as a creche for the infant children of working mothers, was reported at the monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Society for the Protection of Children, held on Monday under the chairmanship of the Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall. It was further reported at the meeting that Mr. Li had promised to donate a sum of $100 per month, for the same period, to held in the expenses of managing the institution.

The creche, which is to be named the Ling Yue Sin Creche in memory of the donor's mother, will be in the hands of the Canadian Sisters, who will be in complete control, but who will consult the Executive Committee of the Society on questions of finance. Admission will at first be restricted to the children of members sent by the Society's inspectors to the creche, and the babies will receive such food, medical attention and other care as may be required. The responsibility for outlay beyond the financial provision made made by the donor will be that of the Society.

ROOM FOR 40 KIDDIES

In was stated at Monday's meeting that the creche, a four-storeyed building, will accommodate approximately 40 children, and provision will be made for the accommodation of the Sisters and amahs, together with facilities for medical treatment. The premises are being completely rebuilt at the donor's expense, and if the experiment proves successful, the donor has signified his intention of providing another creche.

The Committee approved of the financial obligations involved and agreed to convey the sincere gratitude of the Executive and the Society as a whole for Mr. Li's munificent benefaction.

FOOD HAWKERS RESTRICTION

Another matter which came before the Committee was the question of the restriction of food hawkers. It was reported that, in accordance with the decision reached at the October meeting, the Hon. Director, Mr. F. H. Loseby, had written to the Government. The letter stated that the Society had been able, by means of obtaining hawkers' licences and providing stock-in-trade to put a considerable number of destitute and otherwise unemployable persons in a position to earn a livelihood for themselves and their children, the great majority of these persons being widows for whom this form of employment was the only alternative to starvation for themselves or their children, or complete maintenance out of the funds of charities.

AIM IS TO ASSIST

The letter pointed out that it had always been the aim of the Society to assist persons to become self-supporting rather than to pauperise them. The number of licences obtained annually had not been great, the average being in the neighbourhood of 39, and it was stated that if this method of relieving the destitute were stopped, the resultant calls upon the Society's funds might well be more than it could sustain.

It was further stated in the letter that a detailed examination of the subject, with a view to the submission of representations to the Government, was being made, and it was urged that in the meantime, pending this fuller investigation of the whole matter, applications for licences submitted from responsible charitable organisations should continue to be entertained.

Finally, surprise was expressed in the letter that the Urban Council should have proceeded to adopt resolutions in a matter which would so vitally affect many of the poorest of the poor without any enquiry from a Society which is known to be so deeply concerned in their interests.

VOILET PEEL CENTRE

The Rev. H.W. Baines reported to the meeting that he had been informed by the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services that the Society would not be able to continue the use of its present accommodation on the top floor of the Violet Peel Centre, but that alternative accommodation on the ground floor would be available, a certain part to be shared with the Infant Welfare Centre. Mr. Baines suggested that the Society might consider whether it should accept the alternative accommodation or go further afield and establish new quarters in the Eastern district.

It was pointed out, during a discussion of the matter, that infant welfare work loses its value in proportion to the distance of mothers from the centres.

The view was further expressed that the Violet Peel Centre was ideally situated for the Eastern district and that it was a great convenience to a large number of mothers to be able to obtain their food supplies and receive medical attention in the same building.

A sub-committee was appointed to consult with Miss Anderson, the Society's inspector, and to report to the next meeting of the Committee.

GRANT FOR FREE EDUCATION

The Hon. Secretary of the Society (Mrs. M. Barker) suggested that the Society should make a donation to the free night school for poor Chinese boys and girls which had been in existence at the University for some years under Professor Forster, the tuition being given by education students of the University.

It was stated that at present the school had an enrolment of seventy students and that the annual cost of running it was $100 a year. The school now had to move from its present quarters in the University to St. John's Hall annexe at a nominal rent of $8 per month. This annexe is in a considerable state of disprepair and a sum of $3,500 was needed. The University students had themselves raised $2,200 towards this amount.

A tribute was paid to the work of the University students, and the meeting decided to make a grant of $250.

CASES DEALT WITH

Reports were received on various cases dealt with by the Society, one being that of a blind boy of eight years who had been taken before the Juvenile Court Magistrate for begging and been sent to the Remand Home, where it was reported that he was a good lad, intelligent and clean in his habits. No parent had been traced by the police.

It was stated that Mr. A. Morris, Director of Ambulance, had agreed to accept the boy at the Cheung Chau Hospital, and the Committee confirmed the payment of $9 per month for the lad's upkeep in that institution.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Committee decided that the annual meeting of the Society be held on Thursday, December 17, at 5.30 p.m., it being intimated that His Excellency the Governor and Lady Caldecott had consented to be present.

The report for October showed that 183 new cases, involving 459 children, were dealt with during the month, leaving 1,033 cases still under supervision on October 31. Of the month's cases, 152 were of poverty alone and 23 of poverty and disease. Milk or other food was provided in 134 cases and medical treatment in 25.

Regarding the accommodation of the cases dealt with during the month, it was reported that 114 families had nothing better than bed-spaces. The average income per head of cases handled was $1.54 per month.

During the month, 442 visits were paid by the Society's inspectors to homes, while no fewer than 4,021 persons visited the Society's offices.

The financial statement showed that there was during October an excess of expenditure over income amounting to $297.93.

New members of the Committee welcomed were Mr. J. M. Noronha, Mr. Chan Heung-pak and Mr. R.A. McKenny, the last-named having consented to act as Hon. Secretary of the Kowloon branch during the absence on leave of Mr. F. H. Kwok. Mr. O.P. de Martin was cordially welcomed back after his holiday.

HONG KONG FLOWERS

H.K. Teachers' Association

TALK BY DR. HERKLOTS

A talk on botany, dealing with most of the flowers to be found in the Colony, was given by Dr. G. A. C. Herklots to members of the Hong Kong Teachers' Association in the Laboratory of the Hong Kong University last night.

The speaker pointed out that the matriculation syllabus has been considerable revised after the Cambridge Local Examinations and would probably be effective from 1939. This will include most of the chief families and genera of trees, shrubs and woody climbers to be found in Hong Kong.

The talk was an interesting one, and each family was described by Dr. Herklots and in most cases species had been brought to the lecture by his listeners for classification. A few interesting points were noted as follows:—

Camellia is cultivated in gardens and is one of the most common of flowers in Hong Kong.

Reevesia is one of the most beautiful flowers to be found here.

Rhus is very poisonous and persons with sensitive skins suffer from rash by mere contact with it.

The Rhodomyrtus is the most common flower shrub in the Colony.

The sap of the Melodinus is poisonous although the pulp may be eaten.

Two or three leaves from any of the Loganiaceae plants are sufficient to kill an average man. This is often used for suicides and results in a very painful death.

The Verbenaceae is a plant that is found all over the world.

The Phyllanthus contains seeds, bitter but very refreshing to the thirst, but other plants of the same species are poisonous.

The Aleurites is commonly grown in the New Territories as roadside trees, and from it the Chinese extract their "tung" oil.

There are 22 species of oaks in Hong Kong as compared with two in England, although the latter is known as an oak country.

At the conclusion of his talk, Dr. Herklots exhibited some drawings to illustrate the ones the botany student would find useful to imitate. Bibliography and equipment were also shown by the speaker which he emphasised constituted the student's necessary paraphernalia.

OUR SWATOW LETTER

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Swatow, Nov. 15.

By the departure on Saturday, on transfer to Kwangsi, the Chinese community have suffered an exceedingly great loss in the person of Mr. W. F. Tong who, for the past few years, has occupied the post of Salt Commissioner for this district.

About two hundred people were on board the "Hai Hang" to bid au revoir and wish good luck to Mr. & Mrs. Tong, who, by their charming personality and pleasing disposition, have endeared themselves to a wide circle of friends, both Chinese and foreigners. The rousing and unparalleled send-off accorded them bore sufficient testimony of their popularity and justly testified to the ties of friendship and esteem in which they were held.

In his official capacity Mr. Tong was just, tactful and most obliging; in social circles, particularly as a member of the Swatow International Club, he was most active and respected by all. He was the "grand old man" of the Club, so to say.

While his departure will be keenly missed and felt, Mr. Tong's friends cherish the hope that before long he will be given a more elevated position in the Chinese Salt Administration. This wish was already expressed in the several farewell dinner parties given in his honour.

Mr. W. F. Tong is succeeded by Mr. Lee Sui Yew, who is known to many here.

CHINESE Y.M.C.A.

New Building Planned For Bathing

PROPOSED ERECTION AT LAICHIKOK

Plans are now under way for the erection by the Chinese Y.M.C.A., of a substantial building for swimming purposes at Laichikok, to take the place of the matshed which suffered so disastrously in the typhoon of last summer.

A committee of nine has been formed and comprises Mr. P. C. Kwok (chairman), Mr. Lee Yook Tong and Mr. H. Yan Tak, (vice-chairmen), Mr. Hui Pe Kook (Treasurer), Mr. K. T. Young and Mr. James Young, (construction sub-committee), and Messrs. Cheng Chung Leung, Li Kim Sam and Wong Poo Lam.

It is proposed to erect a semi-permanent building with reinforced concrete frame, at a total cost of $10,000. Of this amount, the sum of $5,000 has been promised on loan, and the balance is now being raised by public contribution. Four parties headed by Miss Tsang Suen Hin, Dr. K. K. Wong, Mr. Hui Dap Sam and Mr. Fung Kim Hung, are now at work and it is hoped that the public will give their support.

Already $2,000 has been subscribed.

Construction work will begin as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, so as to have the building ready for use at the beginning of the next swimming season.

PROF. B. IFOR EVANS

Canton Students Addressed

VISITING COLONY ON SUNDAY

Professor B. Ifor Evans, M.A., University Professor of English Language and Literature, University of London, Queen Mary College, who is scheduled to give a lecture at the Hong Kong University on Wednesday, November 25, is at present in Canton, where he addressed the students of the Law University on "The life of students in the English Univsities," on Tuesday.

To-day, the eminent professor will give another address on "English Life as revealed in English Literature," at the Lingnam University. Other educational institutes will also be addressed, it is understood from a Canton source.

Professor Evans arrived in Canton from Shanghai, and was met by Dr. Chou Lu, Chancellor of the National Sun Yat Sen University. The distinguished guest was shown round the campus, and at 2.30 p.m. he gave his address to a large and appreciative assembly.

Professor Evans who is due to arrive in the Colony this Sunday, will be the guest of the Vice-Chancellor till Saturday, November 28.

The lecture, to be given here will be open to the public, and will be delivered in the Great Hall of the University on Wednesday next, November 25.

VIA

Many a child gets a first dose of Latin from wondering what that queer word via means on the luggage label. It can hardly be the name of a place. The label already displays enough recognizable place names to account for departure and destination. A knowledgeable elder is appealed to, and a lingual acquaintance is begun which may in time fade out in boredom and distaste, or may more rarely and more happily lead to enduring appreciation and affection.

The convenient word is found useful in more than its plain geographical sense. "Back to school via . . ." is no railway direction, but the invitation of one of those versatile emporia which aim at supplying all the necessaries and all the consolations calculated to smooth the path of holiday-expired child and anxious parent.

Via is indeed a shorthand expression of the truth that, even when beginning and end are clearly defined, there is still importance in the choice of passage from one to the other. It is not enough, for instance, that there should be a happy home and an attractive holiday resort. These terminals, excellent as they may be in themselves, must be linked by a journey which may be pleasant or detestable, according to the route taken and the pains expended on preparing for it.

This brief Latinism summarizes the spatial facet of the world-old relationship between ends and means. Adam and Eve sought an obvious end, but disastrously by forbidden means. Their offspring are never free from the hazard of the ancestral pitfall. We are all conscious of the problem. An end is ardently desired. To compass it seems to promise the fullest satisfaction. To miss it threatens to rob everything of desirability and value. Surely any means likely to secure that end may be invoked.

The moralist counters with the question whether we should do evil that good may come, and a whole world of casuistry opens up. The problem presents itself differently when the end, though clearly in view, seems hardly worth the trouble of a careful choice of means. That problem calls for solution in each individual life. There beginning and end are the same for all of us. Each one of us must make the journey from the cradle to the grave. But, to an embarrassing degree of responsibility, what shall lie between is left in our own hands.

The lines may seem to be laid down for us with some rigidity. Occupation may be predetermined by birth or by the decision of others. There may have been no practicable alternative to becoming an artisan, a teacher, a lawyer, or an engineer. But it still rests with the man himself whether within the course laid down he is an eager and worthy worker of his kind. He has more latitude, and to that extent still more responsibility, in the family and social relations of private life. There too, though the general course may be already fixed by a combination of choice and circumstance, he is still answerable for means and method. It is a temptation, since the visible end of the individual life seems to be mere cessation, to assume that the way chosen to the inevitable end can be of no great moment, and that a man may as well follow his desires without being hampered by intangible moralities. The truth is rather that the way of human life is paradoxically both means and end. It is the journey itself that matters.

The real aim of the mortal pilgrimage is not that final plunge into a doubtful darkness, but the road chosen, the means used, and the personality evolved in struggling along the path of life.

If a sense of proportion forbids us to accept even that as an end sufficient in itself, faith is ready to descry the greater end to which the product of man's highest effort may become a not unworthy contribution.

PARIS-TOKYO FLIGHT

Japy Held Up In Hong Kong

NON-STOP PLAN UPSET

The French aviator Japy, holder of the Paris-Saigon air record, who is on a flight from Paris to Tokyo, arrived in Hong Kong yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from Hanoi.

Japy left Le Bourget aerodrome on Monday shortly after noon, calling at Damascus, Karachi and Allahabad. Wasting no time, he carried on and reached Hanoi at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and left there for Hong Kong at 12.30 p.m.

It was the aviator's intention, according to information received from the French Consulate here, to carry on to Tokyo non-stop at 7 p.m. yesterday, but owing to heavy head winds and bad weather conditions generally he decided to wait until 11 p.m. and take off.

This intention was apparently upset by the decision of the Japanese authorities not to permit him fly to Tokyo direct, but via Shanghai and Tientsin.

REUTER MESSAGE

A Reuter cable from Shanghai late last evening stated:

An order that he may not fly over the fortified Japanese areas has been issued by the Ministry of Communication in Tokyo, and instructions have been sent to the French airman Japy, who is on a flight from Paris to Tokyo, not to fly to Tokyo direct but via the Shanghai and Tientsin route.

Japy is at present held up in Hong Kong owing to bad weather.

MONGOLS ACT IN SELF-DEFENCE

Suiyuan Action

Changchun, Nov. 18.

A semi-official statement claims defence action on the part of Mongol forces in attacking Suiyuan on grounds that it is directed against communism.

The statement asserts that the Inner Mongolian authorities have been subjected to various forms of pressure by communists operating in the neighbouring districts which necessitated self-defensive action.

Informed quarters add that the Kwantung Army have nothing to do with the situation, but as it is the common desire of Japan and Manchoukuo to prevent inroads of communist influence in Mongolia, they naturally hoped the Mongol operations will be successful.—

WOUNDED ARRIVE

Peiping, Nov. 18.

The purchase of ten thousand fur-lined overcoats for the defenders of Suiyuan is one of the objectives of a nationwide appeal for funds launched by Peiping students.

A hundred wounded arrived at Kweihua from the front following the fighting on Sunday and Monday.—

YING WAH GIRLS' SCHOOL

Annual Prize Day

The Hop Yat Church was filled to capacity, and guests were packing the aisles, when the Ying Wah Girls' School held their annual prize day there yesterday evening.

Professor Hsu Ti Shan, of the Hong Kong University, distributed the certificates, and the Rev. Cheung Chuk Ling was the chairman.

The whole proceedings were in Chinese.

On the platform were: Professor Hsu Ti Shan, Rev Cheung Chuk Ling, Miss D. Hutchinson, Headmistress of Ying Wah Girls' School Rev. F. Short, and Miss V. Silcock.

Mr. Y. P. Law, the inspector of vernacular schools was unavoidably prevented from attending.

After the school hymn was sung by the students, the Rev. Cheung gave an address which kept the girls in laughter and good spirits. He then presented Miss Hutchinson's report in Chinese.

When Professor Hsu had presented the certificates, he gave a speech which was warmly received by the audience.

The following programme was given by the students of the school to close their annual speech day:—

Pianoforte Duet—"Polish Dance," Chau Sui Ping, Lei Wing Ka; Songs—Waking up, Lower Middle School; Lullaby, Forms 1 and 2; Action Songs—The Merry-Go-Round, Butterfly Song, Kindergarten; Chinese Play—"The New Life Movement," Lower Middle and Upper Primary; Drill—Flag Drill, Upper Primary 1; Chinese Drill, Lower Primary 4; Pyramid Building, Lower Middle 1; Pianoforte Solo—"Romanesque," Wong Fung Sin; Play—"The Pied Piper of Hamelin," Middle School; School Song.

JAPAN'S LATEST VENTURE

"Times" Comment

London, Nov. 18.

Japan's genius for imitation is proverbial, but the latest venture does not promise to be as profitable as her previous borrowings from the West," says the "Times" in a leading article on the reported Italo-Japanese-German understanding.

Anticipating that the alliance, if it is officially published, will be described as purely defensive, the "Times" remarks that Russia's intentions at present were undoubtedly pacific. Russia proferred and Japan rejected the idea of a non-aggression pact.

"Tanks and bombers in Kwantung, and levies and ravaging on the Mongol border would doubtless be described as instruments of self-defence against Soviet aggression. So in the last analysis they are, but that aggression has not yet taken shape and the power whose strategic preparations for war, which is admittedly desired by neither side, include the slaughter and ruin of the neighbouring country's subjects, cannot hope to sustain successfully the role of a timid and well-intentioned prig."

Japan's latest move cannot fail to arrest the recently noted abatement of the Russo-Japanese tension, for her new affiliations will enhance the anxieties of those who see disaster looming in the vicinity of Russia's western flank.

Japan has two new friends whose penchant for "recognising obvious realities" does not extend to accepting the axiom that signatures to international agreements are binding. In doing so she has exacerbated relations with Russia, jeopardised her own freedom of action and apparently has obtained no considerable compensatory benefits. She has also prejudiced the prospects of an Anglo-Japanese rapprochement, whose desirability she has been wistfully desiring for some time past, for it is no part of British policy to be committed with entanglements involving adherence to doctrinal groups.—
Reuter.

GERMAN-JAPANESE AGREEMENT

Commercial Arrangement And Political Accord

London, November 18.

The newspapers here, referring to the reported German-Japanese agreement, say it is believed to consist of a commercial barter arrangement providing for exchange of German munitions and munition manufacturing machinery and Japanese goods, together with a political agreement which apparently constitutes a common declaration against communism.—British Wireless.

London, November 18.

The "Times" learns that Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Minister, saw Mr. Yoshida, at the Foreign Office on Monday and told him Great Britain would be interested to have information regarding the reported German-Japanese agreement.

British official circles consider the agreement as in being. It is believed to consist of two parts, the first a barter arrangement, for the exchange of German munitions and munition-making machinery for Japanese merchandise, the second a political agreement which may not go further than a common declaration against Communism.—
Reuter.

TASS AGENCY REPORT

Moscow, Nov. 17.

A German-Japanese agreement has been initialed, in spite of the Japanese denial that such a pact, aimed at the destruction of Communism, exists. This is asserted by the "Tass News Agency" which adds that although the agreement refers to the mutual fight against Communism it covers a secret German-Japanese treaty providing for concerted action in the event of one of the two countries becoming involved with a third state.

An authoritative Soviet statement, quoted by the "Tass Agency" earlier, further states that the Soviet Ambassador in Tokyo yesterday conferred with the Japanese Foreign Minister, Mr. Arita, who denied the conclusion of any agreement directed against the Soviet but admitted negotiations with a third state, unnamed, regarding the formation of a bloc to fight Communism.

At the same time Mr. Arita stated that Japan was striving to establish friendlier relations with the Soviet and the negotiations conducted with the third state could not affect Soviet-Japanese relations either directly or indirectly.

AGAINST RUSSIA

Basing its claim on the same authoritative source, "Tass" adds that the third party mentioned by Mr. Arita is Germany, and that the initialed agreement is, in fact, directed against Russia.

The news has caused no surprise here as ever since Herr Adolf Hitler's advent Moscow has believed in the existence of such an agreement.

It is pointed out that Molotoff referred to the existence of such an agreement in his official report to the Central Executive last year and it was in consequence of this knowledge that the Soviet (anticipating simultaneous attacks on the Far East and Western fronts) created her huge autonomous army and military bases east of the Urals, in order to obviate any division of the Red army's strength.—
Reuter.

ITALIAN HINT

Rome, Nov. 17.

Fresh indication of Italo-German collaboration is provided by the support which the Italian press gives the reported anti-Communist agreement bteween Germany and Japan.

Virginio Gayda, in the course of an article in the Giornale d'Italia, which authoritative quarters characterise as being very well informed, says the association of Italy, Germany and Japan in an extensive struggle against Communism has been imposed by the deliberately aggressive plans of Russian Communism.

The Japanese-German agreement, announced to-day, forms part of this defence scheme, Gayda believes.—

MANCHUKUO ORDER FOR GERMANY

Berlin, Nov. 17.

A 12,000,000-mark contract will shortly be signed by the Manchukuoan Trade Commissioner, Mr. Kato, and a big German concern, for the supply of a coal hydrogenation plant. 2,000,000 marks of the purchase price being for a licence to make synthetic petrol from coal by the German Fischer method.

A number of other major transactions are under consideration, including a contract for the importation of locomotives and blast furnaces by Manchukuo.

The new German Commissioner for Manchukuo is leaving in the near future for Tokyo.—

KING WARMLY GREETED IN SOUTH WALES

London, Nov. 17.—A plot to murder the Viceroy of India, Lord Linlithgow, has been discovered by the Indian police. According to the "News Chronicle" Lahore correspondent, the plotters planned to attack the Vice-regal train, and numerous arrests have been made. —Transocean New Service.

Long Tour Through Distressed Areas

Village Folk Turn Out In Their Sunday Best

London, November 18.

Piquancy is added to the King's visit to South Wales at the news that His Majesty commanded Mr Malcolm Steward, who recently resigned the commissionership of special areas and whose outspoken report on depressed areas was the focal point of last night's debate in the Commons, to dine with him to-night in South Wales.

A remarkable feature of the visit is the intense enthusiasm of the entire populace of the drab villages towns where often one-third of the men are out of work and many young men have hardly known a day's employment in their lives.

The King saw what the unemployed are doing to remedy their own lot. He first visited the Boverton co-operative farm managed by the Land Settlement Society where the unemployed are constructing a model village of sixty houses, and he also saw a number of social halls, children's playground and football fields laid out by the unemployed.

Motor coaches brought hundreds of people from the surrounding villages to places the King is visiting, all dressed in their Sunday best.

Many villages were almost covered with tiny Union Jacks, mostly made locally.—Reuter.

BRIGHT SUNSHINE

London, Nov. 18.

The King left London an hour after midnight in a special train for South Wales where, in bright sunshine, he began this morning his two-day tour of the special areas. He will cover about one hundred miles of the industrial parts of Glamorgan and Monmouth and will visit about twenty two centres.

The visit will give him an opportunity of inspecting thoroughly the conditions in one of Britain's two chief "distressed areas" and the efforts made to alleviate the situation by the Government and voluntary measures.

When the King left his train this morning at Llantwit Station, great crowds gave him an enthusiastic reception. Cheering crowds also lined the road as he set off in his car which moved at a walking pace for Boverton, the first village to be visited.—British Wireless.

INFORMAL CHATS

London, Nov. 18.

The King began his sixty-mile tour of the depressed areas in South Wales accompanied by the Minister of Labour, Mr. Ernest Brown, and the Minister of Health, Sir Kingsley Wood.

He travelled by train overnight and was favoured by brilliant sunshine and blue skies when he left the train at Llantwit Station where members of the British Legion, wearing medals and carrying banners, stood at the station approach.

All children in Glamorganshire will given a holiday and they greeted the King most enthusiastically, while crowds surrounding the villages cheered very heartily.

The King is motoring through the hardest hit towns and villages in the country chatting informally with men and women, many of whom have been unemployed for many years.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

FULLY ARMED BRITAIN

Air Minister's Statement

London, Nov. 17.

In replying to a deLate in the House of Lords, the Secretary for Air, Lord Swinton, said it must be the hope of everybody connected with the League of Nations to bring back into its orbit as many Powers as possible. It was in that spirit that Britain was prosecuting assiduously negotiations for a new Locarno.

In the appeasement of Europe, one thing was necessary, namely, the influence of Britain for peace. Referring to rearmament, he said it would be a great mistake to assume that foreign policy alone was the sole justification of the defence programme. Apart from that, there was a plain duty to see to our own security by sea and air and land.

Our defence plan must be such as adequately to discharge domestic and imperial responsibility. The Army must be properly armed so that it can be effective, whenever it has to be used. In the air, we must have a force, defensive and offensive, which will be at once the most effective defence and the most effective deterrent. He confidently assured the House that the whole training system of the Air Force was highly satisfactory and would bear comparison with that of any other country in the world. With regard to the expansion of aerodromes, the position was quite satisfactory.—British Wireless.

AMERICAN PEACE CONFERENCE

KEELUNG INCIDENT IN COMMONS

London, Nov. 18.

In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Anthony Eden, replying to Sir Cahrles Cayzer, said that he to-day received a communication from the Japanese Ambassador stating that the Tokyo Foreign Office were further examining the Keelung incident in consultation with the authorities concerned and asking that any statement should be postponed till early next week.

Mr. Eden therefore requested the questioner to repeat the question on Monday when he would make a full statement.—Reuter.

DISTRESSED AREAS DEBATE

Conservatives Castigate The Government

London, Nov. 18.

The debate on distressed areas occupied the attention of the Commons in an all-night sitting. A feature of the discussion is the pugnacious attitude of forty Conservatives headed by Viscount Wolmer and Sir R. S. Horne castigating the inefficiency of the Special Areas Act 1934 and insisting on "bold and courageous unorthodox action." Serveral of these Conservatives recently visited the distressed areas in Northumberland and Cumberland and exhaustively investigated and describe themselves as appalled at the conditions.

Despite Mr. Neville Chamberlain's statement on additional relief measures contemplated, it is understood that the Conservative critics' pressure will be in nowise relaxed.

Sir Horne said he was almost a depressed area himself at reading the perfunctory passage relating to this matter in the King's Speech.

Mr. A. T. Lennox-Boyd dwelt on the widespread fear of the question being allowed to drift and assured the Government the support of the whole House in any relief measures, however extreme.

Many other Conservatives were equally severe.

The Government's bill for continuance of the Special Areas Act was read a second time at 6 a.m., but further attacks are expected in the committee stage next week. —Reuter.

CHILDREN OF LONDON

Special Outing During Coronation

London, Nov. 17.

In a letter from the King's Private Secretary to the Education Committee of the London County Council, His Majesty has expressed the wish that a special outing for the children of London, be organised in connection with the Coronation.

The letter added that the King thought the outing should take the form of a reservation for the sole use of the children and those in charge of them, of a space along the route of the Coronation procession, in order that they might be among the first to greet him after he has been crowned.—British Wireless.

ITALIAN CALL FOR PEACE

Milan, Nov. 18.

A vigorous challenge to peace loving countries to prevent Soviet Russia from sending arms and ammunition to Spain is published in the "Gazeta del Popolo."

The paper writes: "How much longer are Europe and the whole civilized world going to hear the complaint against Russia with folded arms? The result of this will be unavoidable war in Catalonia and the formation of a Bolshevist source of conflagration.

If Europe really is interested in preventing a butchery in Spain, other measures than Non-Intervention Pacts must be taken. The routes to Spain must be closed for Soviet ships."—Transocean News Service.

TEXTILE QUOTAS IN SINGAPORE

Singapore, Nov. 18.

The proposed new legislation in connection with textile quotas has been postponed in response to a request from the Colonial Office that the present system of quotas continue for the first quarter of 1937.

Under a bill tabled yesterday, it was proposed to include made-up textiles as piece-goods and impose import quotas.

The Government is also considering inviting tenders for issue of licences under the textile ordinances for nine months from April 1, 1937.—Reuter.

PROPHECY OF DESPAIR

World War Talk Deplored

London, Nov. 17.

Speaking at the Foreign Press Association luncheon in London the First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Samuel Hoare, said to-day, "One of the resounding prophecies that some people are making to-day is that world war is inevitable.

"I am here to say to you as the representatives of most of the newspapers of the world, that this is not the view of the British Government. We refuse to accept this prophecy of despair, this dangerous and pathological prophecy.

"The British Government is determined to take every action in its power to make a prophecy of that kind impossible of fruition. We are determined to throw into the scales of peace all the influences at our disposal."

Proceeding, he said Britain did not attempt to impose her views upon other countries She would be perfectly ready in the future, as in the past, to make friends with Governments whose systems she might think totally inapplicable to Britain and indeed altogether objectionable to British public opinion.

Referring to rearmament he said Britain had been lagging in the field of military defence and there had been gaps in the national equipment to close which every effort was now being made. It was necessary the Government should have all possible power of military defence and the country should re-equip itself to take its full part in the world. Britain threatened no-one is her preparations.—British Wireless.

RIVERA FAMILY ON TRIAL

Accused Of Participating In Spanish Revolt

Paris, Nov. 18.

The trial of the Spanish Fascist leader, Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera, his brother Miguel and the latter's wife, all of whom are in the hands of the Madrid Government, has begun before the People's Tribunal at Alicante, all three being accused of having participated in the Spanish uprising.

From the court proceedings it has been learned that Antonio Primo de Rivera denied that the party founded by him has Imperialistic aims, and declared that his trip to Germany possessed no political significance.

His brother Miguel Primo de Rivera said that he knew nothing of his brother's political activities, and he denied the accusation of the Public Prosecutor that the revolvers found in the cell of the brothers were smuggled in by his wife.

The woman defendant denied having played the role of intermediary between the imprisoned men and the Nationalists.—Transocean News Service.

SOVIET ARREST OF GERMANS

Alleged Terrorist Activities

Moscow, Nov. 17.

The majority of the Germans arrested by the Russian police on charges of espionage and sabotage have already confessed to military and economic espionage and the distribution of Fascist literature among the Russians. They also have confessed to plotting terrorist acts, according to a statement made to-day by M. Maxim Litvinoff, the Foreign Commissar, to the German Ambassador.

In reply the Nazi Ambassador is said to have admitted that there were Nazi groups in other countries but to have declared there were none in the Soviet.—Reuter.

BUILDING FIRED

Berlin, Nov. 17.

The Soviet secret police have made a number of fresh arrests following the destruction, by fire, of the Bureau for the Armaments Industry, occupying two floors of the administrative building for heavy industries in Moscow.

Another floor was partially destroyed.

Russian political circles believe the building was fired in order to conceal cases of embezzlement in the Administration of heavy industries.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

TWO TO BE RELEASED

Moscow, Nov. 18.

It was subsequently learned that M. Litvinoff told the German Ambassador that as no serious evidence was available against two of the arrested Germans, they are likely to be released and deported.—Reuter

GREECE PAYS HOMAGE

Bodies Of Royalty Taken To Capital

Athens, Nov. 17.

The flags in the Greek capital, as well as in Port Piraeus have been flying at halfmast, awaiting the return of the mortal remains of King Constantine. Queen Olga and Queen Sophie. Meanwhile the entire press is devoting long articles to the services rendered by the deceased sovereigns, and expressing the earnest hope that their return will finally unite all Greeks under the leadership of King Constantine's son, George, and the National Government. Hearty thanks are tendered toward Italy for the hospitality awarded the sovereigns when exiled.

The coffins containing the mortal remains of King Constantine, Queen Olga and Queen Sophie arrived on Tuesday from Italy on board the cruiser "Averoff."

The huge number of people who lined the quay at Piraeus, were respectfully silent while the coffins were brought ashore. After a salute was fired, the coffins were carried on a special train, and taken to Athens.—Transocean News Service.

RAIN OF SHELLS IN SPANISH WAR

Telephone Office Building As Main Objective

SURPRISE FOR NEWSPAPERMEN

Madrid, November 18.

There is no respite in the al-day and all-night inferno of bombardment with powerful aerial torpedoes, high explosives and incendiary artillery shells.

The seventeen-storey telephone offices, the highest building in Madrid, is at present the object of a violent artillery attack. Shells are falling in the immediate neighbourhood. One crashed in a room adjoining the chamber in which a number of foreign newspapermen were awaiting calls for abroad. The buildings in the main thoroughfares are ablaze.—Reuter.

Madrid, Nov. 17.

Bombs and shells were hurled incessantly against the capital today. The total of the casualties is unknown though it is established that at least 200 are dead and 500 injured in the bombardment of the past three days.

The North Station, which has been heavily bombed, was evacuated by the militiamen 48 hours before the attack which virtually demolished it, but nine were killed in the simultaneous destruction of adjoining houses.

The telephone offices, one of the highest buildings in Europe appeared to be one of the main objectives of the bombardment and bombs have fallen in the neighbourhood of the River Palace, the Italian Embassy and the headquarters of the military and the Government.

The extent of the damage is difficult to ascertain owing to the dense cloud of dust and smoke hanging over the scene in most of the bombed districts.

The outskirts of the city have been evacuated by the population and these areas are now the war zones.—Reuter.

STUEBORN RESISTANCE

London, Nov. 17.

Despite the probable entry of Spanish insurgents into Madrid over Manzanares River, information reaching London official circles indicates that Government troops are still engaged in the defence of the capital and will continue to show a stubborn resistance.

The Government is considering dissolving the defence committee and restoring the command of the troops to the army officers.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

ADVANCE CONTINUED

Paris, Nov. 17.

The Spanish Nationalists advance towards the centre of Madrid continued, according to reports received here on Tuesday afternoon. The reports stress that the surprise attack made by Colonel Yague in the northwest of Madrid had considerable bearing on the general situation, since the Colonel's troops succeeded in entering the city at the very spot where the Reds were offering most serious resistance.

It is believed that the Nationalist forces will now advance from the university quarter in an eastern direction in order to cut off the densely populated suburb of Quatro Caminos, mostly inhabited by people of the working class.—Transocean News Service.

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Senior Service Wins Prizes

Forthcoming Annual Dinner

The Army Ranges at Kowloon City were comfortably full yesterday afternoon when the Hong Kong Rifle Association held its usual mid-week Spoon and Practice Shoot.

Had it not been for the fact that the Royal Engineers and the 2nd Bn. Royal Welch Fusiliers are engaged in special training, the number attending would again have run into three figures, particularly so as shooting conditions on the whole were good. The wind, however, was very tricky throughout the afternoon, but the light remained fairly constant; it is becoming more and more noticeable that with the nights getting in, any shooting after about 4.30 p.m. takes place in a failing light, which rapidly gets worse.

As will be seen from the results published below, the two spoons awarded yesterday for the best nett and handicap aggregate scores, in the S.R. (b) class, fell, this time, to two members of the Senior Service, and it is very gratifying to find that both of these members joined the Association only quite recently. Everyone who has any knowledge of rifle-shooting organisations, knows very well that one chief difficulty with which such club (or Association) always finds itself confronted, is that of maintaining a steady stream of new members, and the fact that during the last two months over one hundred and twenty new members have been obtained, is indeed proof, if one is required, that the Association is still growing both in members and therefore importance.

There will be no Spoon or Practice Shoot on Saturday afternoon, but, by the courtesy of the Naval Authorities, one will be held on the Stonecutters Range on Sunday next, November 22, commencing at 10 a.m. A private launch will leave Queen's Pier at 9.15 a.m., calling Kowloon Public Pier at 9.25 a.m. and will thence proceed direct to Stonecutters East. The launch will be available for the return journey at the conclusion of the shoot. The fare, each way, will be 20 cents per person, and on this occasion, affiliated members of the Regular Army, who are debarred from shooting on Saturday afternoon, may take part in the shoot, if they so desire.

Arrangements for the First Annual Dinner are now well in hand, and amongst the distinguished guests who have signified their intention of being present, are H.E. Excellencies the Governor; Their Excellencies the Commander-in-Chief and the General Officer Commanding; the Commodore, Hong Kong; the Honourable Inspector General of Police; the Officer Commanding, H.K.N.V.F., and the Commandant, H.K.V.D.C.

Invitations are still being sent out, and it is confidently expected that one of the most representative gatherings which the Colony has seen for a very long time, will be present at this function.

The official opening of the new Clubhouse, which is now nearing completion, has been tentatively fixed for the afternoon of December 10.

The new issue of the Association's "Bulletin" will be published during the week-end, and in it will be found an interesting article on the origin of the "1914" rifle; full particulars of the Conditions of Shooting for the H.K.R.A. "Thirty" Roll, while one whole page is occupied by a list of names of individual full members who have joined during the last few weeks. In addition, no less than seven pages are devoted to the latest handicaps given to members, while full accounts of the Council's recent Meetings are also given.

The leading scores made yesterday afternoon are as follows:—

LOCAL SOCCER

S. China "A" And "B" Draw

VERY POOR LEAGUE ENCOUNTER

The long expected tussle between South China "A" and South China "B" proved to be rather an uninteresting and hum-drum affair, devoid of any of the excitement which usually constitutes a premier league fixture. Not one solitary thrilling incident was produced and neither side evinced the slighest inclination to score. Apparently this had been anticipated by the football fans of Hong Kong as merely a handful of spectators turned up to watch the match. The result was a goalless draw.

Mr. Isley had charge of the game which he handled capably.

The teams lined up as follows:—

South China "A":—Pau Kaping; Lee Tin-sang, Tay Queeman; Lau Hing-choi, Wang Man-shun, Lee Kwok-wai; Tso Kwai-shing, Lai Shiu-wing, Tam Kong-pak, Ho Kar-keung, Tse Fo-nin.

South China "B":—Sam Tsang; Leung Yin-chin, Cheung Chi-ying; Lau Tin-sun, Lam Tak-po, Yeung Pun-hon; Lee Shek-yan, Chak Shek-kam, Tam Hon-woo, Ng Kin-man, Wong Wa-gay.

On the whole; the standard of play produced by this game was hardly the equivalent of that which the average school team produces. Mistakes and inaccurate passing were the order of the day. Long wild drives and aimless shots which never stood an earthly change of reaching the net, deprived the game completely of any semblance of a spirited encounter. Such an exhibition of weak football on the part of two such teams as China "A" or China "B" has rarely, if ever, been seen in Hong Kong previously.

Really, the spectacle of a China "A" full back resting on the ground and watching the other twenty one players was most amusing.

ULSTER RIFLES LEAGUE

The final of the Royal Ulster Rifles Inter-Platoon League competition took place yesterday at Murray Barracks between No. 14 Platoon of "D" Company and the Band.

Sgt. Hanna had charge of the players whom he lined up as follows:—

14 Pln.—Reid, Kelly, Masterson; Patton, McCauley, Miller; Higgins, Martin, Lindsay, Killen Nelson.

Band:—Chivers; Henbry, Pollitt; Day, Allen, Bradford; McCormick, Ballard, Kaye, Bulpin, Baker.

Linesmen: Lewis and Gallagher.

Nothing of note happened during the first half which ended without score.

The game was only ten minutes old in the second half when Kaye was brought down heavily inside the area by Killen. Kaye missed from the spot kick. The first goal came from the same player during a scrimmage in the goal of 14 Pln. The second goal was scored by Bulpin five minutes before the final whistle blew. The game ended with the Band attacking strongly.

Full-time: Band, 2, 14 Pln, nil.

For the Band the outstanding players were Bulpin, Kaye and Bradford while the losers were well served by Masterson, McCauley and Nelson.

H.K.C.C. v. ARMY

The following will represent the Army in their First Division match against the Hong Kong C.C. at H.K.C.C. on Saturday.

WOMAN REPLIES

Commons' Warm Ovation

ADDRESS OF THANKS

Miss Florence Horsburgh, dressed in mushroom brown velvet evening dress, with the short cape revealing her bare arms, and her hands covered with long cream-coloured gloves, stood before a crowded assembly of the House of Commons recently to move the Address of Thanks to the King for his Speech. Excepting Lady Astor, who is abroad, all her Parliamentary "sisters" were present, and the public galleries had an exceptional number of women occupants—in the proportion of four women to every one man states the "Bulletin."

While the Speaker had certain formalities, such as reading the terms of the King's Speech, to go through, Miss Horsbrugh, with all eyes upon her, sat straight-backed and looking through light-coloured horn-rimmed glasses, scanned sheaves of notes of her speech, and then looked around the Chamber.

Every now and again she appeared to heave a slight sigh. She looked charming in a coiffure that suited her features. Her dark hair was marcel-waved, and for once she looked as if she had used a powder puff, if ever so slightly.

TWO MINUTES' CHEERING

The Prime Minister, when he entered the House, turned round to her and asked a question smilingly, to which she gave a smiling answer.

She was greeted with cheers for two minutes when the Speaker called out, "Miss Horsbrugh." She stood silent, looking down at her notes during the cheers, and then began in a restrained and almost subdued but clearly audible voice. She maintained almost the same low pitch of contralto voice throughout.

"The whole House was gratified," she began, "that His Majesty was able to open Parliament in person."

The day's ceremony reminded them of the devoted loyalty and affection shown to his late Majesty as well as the present King. She was conscious that in the honour that was hers was appreciated by her constituency in Dundee, which was the third city in Scotland.

NEW FIELD

"To-day it takes pride of place among all the constituencies in Great Britain, and I am assured that my constituents are completely satisfied with that situation," commented Miss Horsburgh quietly.

She believed the honour done her was appreciated not only by the women members of that House, but by the vast number of women electors throughout the country.

She would not liken the occasion to an attack on a crumbling fortress or recall Knox's epithet to the organised womenhood in his day.

"I prefer to look upon this occasion as the opening of a gate to a new field of opportunity, and I believe the gate is being thrown open with true, if somewhat tardy hospitality. (Laughter.)

"I fit myself but poorly for the occasion, but I have the consolation that it has never been done better by a woman before—(Laughter)—and whatever else may be said of me in the future, henceforward I am historic." (Laughter.)

Miss Horsbrugh touched upon all the domestic measures outlined in the King's Speech, and especially the Government's plans for social legislation in Scotland.

Mr. Attlee, the Labour Party leader, said of Miss Horsbrugh that it would be a long time before anyone would move the address better than her.

MT. EVEREST

Mr. Ruttledge Will Not Try Again

"SUMMIT WILL BE REACHED"

Mr. Hugh Ruttledge, leader of the fifth unsuccessful Mount Everest expedition, which returned to England this summer, announced at the end of a lecture which he gave on Nov. 3 to the Royal Geographical Society, that he had decided not to take part in future expeditions, states the "Daily Telegraph."

Mr. Ruttledge said: "Though I must now cease from active participation in this great venture, I can never forget the way in which my comrades took the rough with the smooth and made even failure a happy memory.

"Some day I hope they will return and that they will be favoured with fairer conditions—then I am sure they will reach the summit."

Summing up the new experiences the expedition had gained, Mr. Ruttledge said that they now had the nucleus of an absolutely first-rate party and had explored the possibilities of the east side of the North Col. They had made a sufficient examination of the west side to feel justified in recommending it as an alternative route, so that there were now three possible ways to the summit.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. Ruttledge told the story of a fight against bad weather which culminated in a narrow escape from death for two members of the party, Mr. Shipton and Mr. Wyn Harris, who had attempted a reconnaissance.

Just above a 400ft deep ice precipice, the slope on which the two climbers were standing began to move. Shipton was instantly carried down on his back, but Harris, making a desperate effort, leaped back towards the lower lip of the crevasse and drove his axe deep into the hard snow.

"Just when it seemed that the straining rope must pull the axe out of the snow and Wyn Harris with it," said Mr. Ruttledge, "the avalanche slowed down and stopped close to the brink of the ice precipice."

After that there was no further argument as to whether the expedition should proceed. The North Col had had the last word, and they all knew then that the mountain was finished with for the year.

The monsoon arrived considerably before it was expected. It rushed up from Ceylon to the Everest region in four days, instead of the usual fortnight or three weeks.

Explaining how the fourth expedition had reached a point within about 1,000 feet of the summit, Mr. Ruttledge said that they felt sure that only the extreme and possibly unprecedented conditions of that particular season prevented a complete success, that it was unlikely weather alone would stop a future expedition.

"We were wrong," he said, "the mountain had more shots in her locker, and in laying before my audience the results of this year's expedition, I have the invidious task of describing how a party of exceptional competence met with weather not experienced by any previous expedition and was unable to reach a height greater than that attained by the reconnaissance of 1921."

THE SILVER FUR

Canada's Main Fur Producer

Ottawa, Canada. — For the fourth consecutive year Canada's fur production has shown an increase in value. Although the actual number of pelts in the 1934-35 season was less than in the previous season the value of raw fur production during the twelve months ended June 30, 1935, was $12,843,341, an increase of 4 per cent over the preceding season and 25 per cent over the 1932-33 season.

The production includes the harvest of traps laid in forests and pelts taken from animals raised on fur ranches. The fur farms account for about one third of the total.

FUR DEVELOPMENT

The fur farm development has been an outstanding feature of the fur trade in recent years. Fur trading was the earliest of all industries in Canada and in those far off days the idea of raising furbearing animals on fur farms was not thought of. It was not until about 60 years ago that farmers who had kept a fox or two in captivity realized the potential importance of the new industry. It was in the province of Prince Edward Island in Eastern Canada that raising silver foxes in captivity and marketing the furs were first attempted and that province is still in many respects the centre of the industry. Other animals such as mink, beaver, raccoon, muskrat, and about a score of others are raised on farms but the silver fox is still the backbone of fur farming.

COLOSSAL VALUE

In the season just past, the silver fox pelts entering the market were valued at $4,343,823, or about 34 per cent of the total production of the fur trade. Following the silver fox in order of importance but with considerably smaller total values are muskrat, mink, and white fox. The white fox is trapped in Northern Canada, chiefly by the Eskimos.

There has been a steady decline in the number of beaver skins on the market. The reduction in this fur which in early days was the mainstay of the industry is due in part to the scarcity of the animals and in part to the restrictions placed by provincial authorities on trapping with a view to the conservation of this historic animal. It is a source of regret that the beaver is disappearing. The beaver with the maple leaf is the emblem of Canada and trade in beaver skins played a large part in the early history and development of Canada.

A "FAIRY TALE" CAREER

New Zealand High Commissioner

Mr. W. J. Jordan, the new High Commissioner for New Zealand, was the guest of honour at a luncheon given at the Savoy Hotel on November 3 by the New Zealand Society, states the "Daily Telegraph."

He was a London policeman, a coach painter, and a postal worker before entering politics, and Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, the Dominions Secretary, described his career as reading like a fairy story.

"If you had approached him 35 years ago," he said, "and told him that one day he would have taken out his notebook and pencil and warned you that everything you said was being taken down in evidence against you, and then would have advised you to 'move along, there.'"

Mr. Jordan, in reply said that he little thought 32 years ago, when he visited the Agent-General's office in Victoria-street and booked an assisted passage to New Zealand, that some day he would be welcomed back by Secretaries of State and by a former Governor-General who knew New Zealand so well.

Viscount Bledisloe, formerly Governor-General of New Zealand, also spoke.

SPIRE OF SALISBURY CATHEDRAL

Anxiety For Safety

Fresh anxiety is being felt for the safety of the 40ft. spire of Salisbury Cathedral, which is the highest in the country, and is in need of repair.

The Dean of Salisbury, the Very Rev. E. L. Henderson told the Salisbury Diocesan Conference that a report drawn up by the architect was very serious.

Mr. W. A. Forsyth, the Cathedral architect, told a "Morning Post" representative that while the spire was not in a delicate state it had to be watched very carefully.

"There is no immediate sign of collapse," Mr. Forsyth added, "but the spire has suffered slight damage from gales, and the repairs now asked are very urgent.

"New masonry for the towers and spire and other parts of the Cathedral would do much to ensure the preservation and safety of the fabric. The principle of maintaining a mediæval structure is 'little and often,' and where the stone is perishing it is necessary to restore it as soon as possible."

Mr. Forsyth stated that his report also provided for the strengthening of the roof with oak timbers, which would protect the gables.

KING'S HORSE FAVOURITE

But Finishes Poorly In Hurdle Race

London, Nov. 17.

Marconi, the first horse to run under His Majesty's colours, disappointed high hopes to-day when he ran tenth in the two miles Thorneycroft hurdle race at Wolverhampton.

Marconi started at the hot odds of 5 to 4, but he upset all predictions in a field of 17. The horse was made a warm favourite on his past performances which included two steeplechase victories.

The race was won by Mr. Whitelaw's Glenfeshil, which started at 10 to 1.—Reuter.

A STORY ABOUT MR. H. G. WELLS

Dame Rachel Crowdy, speaking on November 2 at the annual dinner of the Society of Women Musicians at the Hotel Great Central, London, told a story about Mr. H. G. Wells, states a Home paper.

"Mr. H. G. Wells once told me," she said, "that for years his mother hoped she would live long enough to see him turn over a new leaf and become an honest business man. One day he tried to prove to her that there was something in writing by showing her a substantial cheque he had received from his publishers. All she did was to burst into tears and say, 'To think that my son should deceive his mother.'"

TOWN'S GIFTS TO H.M.S. ABERDEEN

The women of Aberdeen recently presented H.M.S. Aberdeen, the new patrol sloop, on a visit to her name city, with a silk white ensign. The presentation was made by the Lady Provost at a ceremony in the Town Hall.

Baillie J. D. Munro, Senior Magistrate, on behalf of the citizens, gave the ship three pieces of silver plate.

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

Mining leaders were unanimously agreed recently that the future of the industry in the Philippines was unusually bright, and that the slump on the stock market which has been so marked during the past few days had no effect whatsoever upon actual mining operations, states the "Manila Bulletin."

The general sentiment of representatives of nearly all of the operating or near-production organizations seemed to be that the fluctuations of the stock market depended wholly upon speculative traders, and that such fluctuations were merely incidental to the progress of mining.

NO FEAR EXPRESSED

The officials of both stock exchanges expressed no fear for the future. Enrique Santamaria, president of the Manila Stock Exchange, told the Bulletin: "Those speculators whose positions were unsound have sold out. The market is on a firmer basis than ever before. The Manila Stock Exchange will continue its trading to-morrow as usual."

Members of the Manila Stock Exchange held a meeting recently, but details of this meeting were not announced for publication.

E J. Sanderson, managing director of the International Stock Exchange, stated that the slump in prices had not materially affected any of the members of the new exchange. "All of our accounts are in good order, after the close of Wednesday sessions substantial buying orders were reported by the various members at prices at or slightly under present market prices. We believe sound producing mines are good purchase at prevailing levels."

HAUSSERMANN TALKS

"Judge John W. Haussermann, head of the Benguet interests, in a statement made to S. N. Picornell, vice-president of the Manila Stock Exchange, said that the decrease in prices on the market is not a reflection of actual conditions. A. F. Duggleby, vice-president of Benguet and Balatoc, and operating head of the Benguet interests, fully concurred in Judge Haussermann's statement, which follows:

"So far as Benguet and its affiliated mines are concerned, I see no reason why there should be a decrease in the price of their shares at this time. Our operations are continuing at all of our properties on a normal basis. The same tonnage of ore is being milled and the same value per ton is being maintained as has been done during the past six months. Therefore, since dividend rate is directly controlled by operating profits, I feel sure that the normal dividend rates which we have established will be continued.

FUTURE OPERATIONS

"So much for present operations. Future operations depend, of course, on present development. This development is so far in advance of mining that we are not particularly concerned with its ups and downs so long as the general average of ore developed does not decrease. At the present moment, it so happens that development at all of our properties is brighter than it has been. This is so much the case at Benguet that we are now designing a 200-ton addition to our mill which will bring our daily capacity up to 1000 tons per day. Hence, I am confident that the value of our stocks is as much to-day as it was two or three weeks ago, and that the decrease in prices on the market is not a reflection of actual conditions."

YESTERDAY'S OFFICIAL QUOTATIONS

Business continues on a more or less restricted scale, the only feature calling for special mention being the further advance in H.K. Banks, Ewos and Raubs. Both China Lights and Cements closed with an easier undertone.

With the exception of a sharp rise in the price of Antamoks to P.4.00, there were no important changes in the Mining section.

CANADIAN WHEAT

Surplus Will Have Gone

MARKET FIRMER

Winnipeg, Canada.—It is now well established, according to experts, that the Canadian wheat surplus will have practically disappeared at the end of the present crop year, July 31, 1937. In this way the heavy carryover of the last few years which has been a cloud on the market will be removed.

The carryover of wheat in Canada on July 31 last was 109 million bushels, the additional wheat in store in the United States being for the most part under contract of sale in that country. This year's crop, including both winter and spring wheat was 233 million bushels, making a total available supply of 342 million bushels. From this must be deducted about 100 million bushels required for domestic uses. Of this 100 million about 35 million are required for seed and the rest for flour and feed.

This leaves an exportable surplus of 242 million bushels. Sales last year amounted to 254 million bushels or more by 12 million bushels than the entire available supply this year. To retain a normal surplus of 50 million bushels, Canadian sales during the present crop year need only be 192 million bushels.

The Canadian surplus, so long a drag on the international market, began to grow after the big crop year of 1928 when a crop of 566 million bushels was harvested. That year the average yield per acre was 23.5 bushels compared with an estimated yield this year of 9.2 bushels.

Fairly good crops followed the bumper 1928 harvest and the carryover which was normally about 50 or 60 million bushels had grown by July 1933 to 212 million bushels. In 1934 it was 194 million and 1935, 203 million.

The anticipated elimination of the Canadian carryover has been one of the contributing factors in the strengthening of the international wheat market of which other large exporting countries such as Argentina and Australia have also felt the benefit.

NEW BRITISH LOAN

London, Nov. 17.

The Government is issuing a new medium-term loan of £100,000,000 in the form of 2¾ per cent. Funding Loan redeemable between 1952 and 1957. The issue price is 98½.

The money will be used partly to finance the redemption of £35,000,000 bonds maturing on February 1, 1937, and partly to fund the Floating Debt.—Reuter.

GERMAN FOOD SUPPLY

Berlin, Nov. 17.

To increase the production of food supply under the Four Years Plan, the Reichs Minister for National Food Supply, Darre, has sanctioned a grant of 80 Reichsmarks per hectar to be paid to peasants for the utilisation of barren or swamp land, or land that has hitherto not been cultivated because of poor yield.—Transocean News Service.

FRANCE'S TRADE

Paris, Nov. 17.

Imports into France in October 1936 exceed exports by 788 million francs. The total excess of imports over exports from January to October amount to 7½ milliards francs. This huge deficit is causing the French Government serious anxiety since its continuance would in time again undermine the French currency.—Transocean News Service

NEWS FROM THE WATERFRONT

Freight And Asiatic Passengers Returns

(BY LONGSHOREMAN).

The freight returns, received from the Harbour Office during the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday, showed a fairly high tonnage movement, a large proportion of which being contributed by British ships.

The total tonnage of general cargo carried by vessels to the Colony was 19,012 tons, with British steamers carrying 12,006 tons.

Through cargo for ports beyond the Colony amounted to 19,309 tons, of which 13,087 tons were carried by British steamers.

Asiatic deck passengers entering into the Colony during the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday were 1,898, of which 201 were from British steamers.

There were altogether seventeen arrivals, of which eight were of British registry, the remainder being of other nationalities, while of the 22 departures, twelve were British ships, the rest being of other different countries. Particulars as follows:—

Opium Charges Against European

ARMISTICE DAY INCIDENT

PROSECUTION OPENS CASE

Arrested on November 12 on charges of importing raw and prepared opium into the Colony from Macao on board the s.s. Chuen Chow the day previous, James Johnston, 52, of Aberdeen, Scotland, appeared before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon.

The accused was defended by Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios, and Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted.

The charges were: the unlawful importing of 72 taels of raw opium from Macao and possession thereof, and the unlawful importing of 18 taels of prepared opium on board the s.s. Chuen Chow on November 11, and possession thereof.

CASE OUTLINED

The facts of the case were that on Armistice Day defendant met Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Elliot, of the Assessor's Department of Treasury, at the R.A.O.B. Club about 1.00 p.m.

They adjourned to the Chuen Chow after remaining at the Club for twenty minutes. Defendant asked Mr. Elliot to take a parcel back and ask Mr. Bond, the manager of the Club, to deliver it to Mr. Chester Bennett, or if it was not delivered he (the defendant) would take delivery of it upon his return from Macao.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot went on a shopping tour instead of delivering the parcel immediately, and in the process of much handling, the parcel wrapping become loose.

PECULIAR ODOUR

Arriving at his home at 26, Village Road, ground floor, Mr. Elliot was attracted by the peculiar odour that emanated from the parcel, and he opened it. Not knowing its contents, he took it to his father-in-law, Mr. Gosling, who was a retired Customs official, and ascertained from him that it was opium.

Mr. Elliot took the parcel to Mr. W. J. Buller, Chief Preventive Officer, at the Import and Export Office.

There were six blocks of raw opium, and four paper packets of 18 tins of prepared opium in the parcel, according to Mr. H. A. Taylor, Government Monopoly Analyst.

The raw opium was valued at $216, and the prepared at $144.

ACCUSED'S DENIALS

Defendant was arrested the next day by Mr. Buller and Revenue Officer A. W. Grimmitt, on board the s.s. Chuen Chow, and he pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Mr. Abbott submitted that less than an hour after defendant had met Mr. Elliot at the R.A.O.B. Club he (Mr. Elliot) was asked to deliver a parcel which contained a highly incriminating substance. It seemed peculiar to the prosecutor that defendant did not take it himself in the morning.

On the two charges of possession he submitted that Mr. Elliot's evidence of the receipt was abundant proof of possession, and concluded that the importation was proved because of the opium being in defendant's cabin.

EVIDENCE CALLED

Mr. Buller was the first witness, and stated that he received the parcel from Mr. Elliot at 7 p.m., on November 11, and also received a written statement.

He saw Mr. Elliot again at 10 a.m. the next day and was given the outer wrapping of the parcel, which had been torn off.

Mr. Remedios:—Is Mr. Elliot's statement here?—Yes.

Did Mr. Elliot, in his report to you, say to whom the parcel was to be delivered?—He said that it was to be taken to the R.A.O.B. Club, and that it would be called for by Mr. Bennett or the defendant.

You didn't misunderstand Mr. Elliot's statement?—No.

Did you expect to find anything incriminating in defendant's cabin on the day of the arrest?—No, but I would not have been surprised either way.

After he was cautioned, did defendant elect to make a statement?—He said that he didn't bring in any opium, and added that he was continually bringing parcels from Macao.

Did the charges result from the opium produced by Mr. Elliot?—Yes.

How was Mr. Chester Bennett mentioned in this case?—The parcel was to be delivered to Mr. Bennett.

Did Mr. Elliot make a statement that Mr. Bennett had taken a suitcase from the ship?—No.

Mr. Abbott: How many parcels were in the basket when you received it from Mr. Elliot?—Only one, and it was broken.

In the witness stand, Mr. Elliot said that the parcel was to be delivered to Mr. Bond of the R.A.O.B. Club to be given to Mr. Chester Bennett who would call for it. Defendant would call for it in the event that it was not collected.

He had never let the parcel out of his sight the whole day.

After some deliberation as to when the hearing should be adjourned, his Worship agreed to Mr. Remedios's request to have the next hearing on November 20 at 2.15 p.m., and to extend the hour until midnight if the necessity arose.

"STARS AND STRIPES"

H.M.S. BERWICK AS HOSTS

Confetti and caps were distributed and the charming ladies who were invited to the soiree, as well as the sailors, enjoyed the entertainment immensely.

Dancing began promptly at 8.30 to the rhythm of Bruno's Orchestra, from the Berwick, and the encores that were requested showed the keen appreciation of the immense crowd there.

Prizes were given to the fortunate holder of a lucky ticket number chosen by luck, and also for the winners of the spot waltz, and the card dance.

Gaiety was the keynote of the occasion and the assembly was loath to leave when the National Anthem was played at 1 a.m.

The officers of the dance were: President: Lt.-Com. P. A. Barry. Committee: C. P. O. Blatchford, (master of ceremonies), Stoker Green, Shipwright Johnson, Marine Parish, E. R. A. Tall, Cook Regan and A. B. Rich.

"HARPO"

First Prize Gentlemen's Most Original Costume at the Bal Masque—Paymaster Lt. C. H. A. Harper, R.N. as "Harpo" famous character from the Marx Bros.

FIREMEN'S DISPLAY

was won by Central "A" who executed the drill in 2 minutes 2.1/5 secs., their time being two seconds better than Kowloon.

The uses of fire extinguishers were next demonstrated, soda acid and foam type being used. It was shown that the former had little effect on a petrol fire while foam type extinguished the flames almost immediately.

HOSE BURSTS

The motor pump competition drill final was decided between the Mongkok Fire Station team and Central Fire Station "B" the latter winning in the time of 55.3/5 secs. The Mongkok firemen unfortunately burst their hose and thus lost much valuable time. The winners became the proud possessors of the shield donated by the Hong Kong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company in 1904 for competition in the Fire Brigade.

HOOK LADDERS

The hook ladder competition drill final proved most exciting. The competitors were firemen 73 and 56, of Mongkok, firemen 96 and motor driver 30, of Kowloon, firemen 33 and 101, of Shamshuipo, and firemen 35 and 61, of Shamshuipo.

It was explained that the hook ladder was a most important piece of fire apparatus. It is used for scaling houses and places where engine ladders could not be used.

Using two hook ladders, each pair (one equipped with a hook-belt) scaled the drill tower and effected the rescue of a man by the "Davy" fire escape line.

The competition was won by firemen 56 and 73 in 4 minutes 36.3/5 secs.

THRILL PROVIDED

The thrill of the afternoon was provided in a demonstration with the 100 foot all-steel motor turntable fire escape, which, it was explained to the spectators, weighed over ten tons. A fireman was "shot" up to a height of 94 feet. They use a telephone connection from the base of the ladder to the top.

"District Call" (indicating a fire of some magnitude) brought five motor fire engines into operation and eight hoses were played. It was a striking display and gave the public an insight into the working of the Brigade at a big conflagration.

MEANS OF ESCAPE

Prior to this item irregular means of escape from a building in the event of fire were demonstrated with the jumping sheet, automatic "Davy" fire escape and canvas shoot. It was stated by Mr. Fitz Henry that the jumping sheet was the means of saving ten lives in a fire in Shamshuipo in 1932.

At the conclusion of the display, His Excellency the Governor presented the Competition Drill prizes.

LONG SERVICE MEDAL

Opportunity was also taken to award the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service medal to Fireman Lok Yam who has completed 26 years service in the Brigade.

Three cheers and a "tiger" were called for His Excellency and met with hearty response from the firemen.

The drive past of all appliances in Gloucester Road, with His Excellency taking the salute, brought to a conclusion a most successful display.

The spectators at the display included the Hon. Mr. W. J. and Mrs. Carrie, Mr. A. Morris, Director of Ambulance, St. John Ambulance Brigade, Mrs. R. Langley, Mr. Ip Lan Chuen, Mr. C. S. Rosselet, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Perdue, Mr. F. C. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Franks, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Thomas, Mrs. P. Grant, members of the visiting party of the Canton Red Cross, representatives of the Girl Guides Association, Boy Scouts Association and local schools.

MR. T. V. SOONG

Due Here To-day

Instead of leaving Shanghai by aeroplane as previously reported, Mr. T. V. Soong, Chairman of the National Economic Commission suddenly changed his mind owing to unfavourable weather reports, and left for Hong Kong by the R.M.S. "Empress of Russia" last Tuesday night to preside at the re-opening ceremony of the Bank of Canton.

He is expected to arrive here this morning.—Chinese Evening Press.
